EXT. CEMETERY - DAY

CLOSE UP of another headstone that has the director's name chiseled on it.

END CREDITS

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

MUSIC CUE: The music fades out.

TIGHT SHOT on AARON (CHRIS ROCK) thirties, dressed in a black suit and tie. He looks straight ahead with a somber expression.

The camera pulls back to reveal he is watching FOUR UNDERTAKERS (INCLUDING BRIAN) place a coffin on a raised platform.

CONTINUED:

The living room has been prepared for the funeral service, with several rows of chairs laid out.

BRIAN
Would you like to see...

Aaron nods his head "yes", as BRIAN begins to open the coffin. Aaron crosses to the coffin.

There's a dramatic moment as Aaron moves to the coffin and braces himself for what he's about to see. The coffin opens and Aaron stares long and hard at the body.

AARON
Brian... who is that?

BRIAN Excuse me?

AARON
Who is this man I'm looking at?
'Cause it's not my father.

BRIAN
Are you sure?

AARON
Are you asking me if I'm sure I know what my father looks like?

BRIAN
People make mistakes in times of grief.

AARON
Man, look at the damn body!

Brian peers into the coffin. We see it's an ASIAN MAN.

BRIAN
Oh shit!

The other undertakers look embarrassed.

AARON
Come on, Brian. You know what my father looks like. He used to take you to little league.

BRIAN
I'm sorry, man. I got a little nervous. This almost never happens.

CONTINUED: (2)

AARON

It's happened before?! You mean this is a normal thing?... This isn't Burger King. You can't just mess up my order.

BRIAN

I think I know where he is.

AARON

You think?

CUT TO:

INT. ASIAN FUNERAL - SAME TIME

Close up of the casket opening. People look confused. The MAN looking into the coffin speaks Chinese with subtitles.

ASIAN MAN

(in Chinese)

That's not my father.

CUT TO:

INT. LIVING ROOM - SAME TIME

AARON

I better see my dad in this coffin in an hour, or you're going to take his place.

The undertakers pick up the coffin and shuffle out awkwardly.

BRIAN

Don't worry. I'll get him, man.

AARON

You do that.

(to himself)

My people, my people, my people...

INT. BEDROOM - DAY

Aaron enters the bedroom. His wife, MICHELLE, also thirties, attractive, is putting on makeup with a thermometer hanging from her mouth. Aaron stands looking dumbfounded.

AARON

They brought the wrong body. Can you believe that?

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

MICHELLE

(muffled because of thermometer)

The wrong body?! Do they know where he is?

AARON

They think so. They're getting him now.

The thermometer beeps and Michelle removes it from her mouth.

MICHELLE

I told you not to use Marshals. But no, you wanted to keep it in the neighborhood. I know Swartz costs a little more, but at least they know where the bodies are.

Michelle writes something down on a piece of paper as Aaron crosses the room and sits on the bed.

AARON

You were right. Please don't rub it in, not today. I've got so much to worry about.

Michelle gets up and heads to the bathroom as Aaron takes out some index cards and looks them over.

AARON (CONT'D)

Dad insisted on having the funeral here, Mom's crying all the time, Ryan didn't help with anything, not like he ever does! Plus my eulogy sucks. I can't wait until this day is over.

MICHELLE (O.S.)

Oh come on, honey. I'm sure it's not that bad.

AARON

If it is, at least Dad's too dead to hear it.

Michelle exits the bathroom.

MICHELLE

Honey, it's going to be fine.

CONTINUED: (2)

AARON

It doesn't matter what I write. All anybody's going to be thinking is "why isn't Ryan doing the eulogy? Even I'm going to be thinking it.

She holds him close.

MICHELLE

Baby, you're the oldest. You have to do the eulogy. Besides, I think you're just as good a writer as your brother. You just need to let someone read your book.

Aaron looks away.

AARON

Soon. It's not ready to be read yet.

MICHELLE

I'm sure it's fine. Once the funeral's over, and everything dies down--

Aaron gives her a look.

MICHELLE (CONT'D)

Sorry. Look, once this is all over, you know your mom's thinking about selling the house, so you know we've got to get out of here.

Aaron looks a little uncomfortable and heads to the bathroom.

MICHELLE (CONT'D)

You called them, right?

Silence from Aaron in the next room.

MICHELLE (CONT'D)

Aaron?... You put the down payment on the condo, right?

AARON (O.C.)

I said I'd take care of it and I'll take care of it.

Michelle looks frustrated and crosses into the bathroom.

INT. BATHROOM - CONTINUOUS

Aaron is at the mirror.

MICHELLE

You better, because I can't live with your mother anymore. I've done my time, now it's time for your brother to take over. From now on, it's only Christmas and birthdays for us. Once we move, we can concentrate on your writing and our baby.

Michelle gets down on her knees and starts unzipping Aaron's pants. Aaron pulls back.

AARON

Hey, hey, hey. Are you serious? We have to do this today?

Michelle is still on the ground.

MICHELLE

Yes. Today's the last day of this cycle.

AARON

Can I at least find the body first?

EXT. FREEWAY - WIDE SHOT - DAY

We see NORMAN'S CAR speeding along the freeway.

INT. NORMAN'S CAR - MOVING - DAY

NORMAN, black, slightly heavier and riddled with anxiety, is driving. His friend, DEREK, an attractive, white, clean cut doctor, rides in the passenger seat.

NORMAN

I hate funerals. It's all death, death, death.

DEREK

I don't think funerals are designed for anybody to really like.

NORMAN

I don't want a regular funeral. When I die, I want people to celebrate my life.

CONTINUED:

DEREK

Not me. I want it to be the saddest day ever. I want the stock market to stop. Schools to close. And no garbage pick-up.

Derek starts to light a cigarette.

NORMAN

You still smoke?

DEREK

You used to smoke.

NORMAN

I used to piss my pants too, but I stopped. The only thing I want black is my skin. At least open the window.

Derek opens the window very slightly.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

I've got enough problems of my own to deal with.

DEREK

(dubious)

Yeah? What problems?

NORMAN

I told you... About the rash...

DEREK

Got to use condoms.

NORMAN

...on my hand...

DEREK

Still got to use condoms.

NORMAN

Look at it.

Norman pulls up his sleeve and makes Derek look at his wrist, but he doesn't take a great deal of interest.

DEREK

That's not a rash.

NORMAN

What is it?

(CONTINUED)

DEREK

I don't know, but it doesn't look right.

NORMAN

Oh, damn.

Norman continues to drive. Derek continues to smoke.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

If you hate funerals so much why are you coming?

DEREK

You know why.

NORMAN

Come on, man, leave Elaine alone.

DEREK

I can't. She's the one.

NORMAN

So you're going to win her back over a dead body?

DEREK

If I have to.

INT. ELAINE'S CAR - MOVING - DAY

ELAINE, very attractive, 27, and her boyfriend OSCAR, white, 35, are driving along wearing funeral attire. Oscar looks quite anxious as he keeps his eyes firmly on the road.

ELAINE

Are you okay?

OSCAR

Yeah, just a little nervous...

ELAINE

About seeing my dad?

OSCAR

I just don't think I've ever been so openly hated by anyone before.

ELAINE

He doesn't hate you. He just loved Derek.

CONTINUED:

OSCAR

Great. That makes me feel much better.

ELAINE

At least you know it's not you, so try not to get so nervous when he's around.

OSCAR

I can't help it. He puts me on edge. I feel like I owe him money.

ELAINE

He's going to be more concerned that his brother-in-law just died. He won't be focused on you. Anyway, when I tell him we're getting married, he'll have to accept you.

Elaine takes his hand. As they exchange a loving look, Oscar takes his eyes off the road for just a brief moment. Suddenly there's a BUMP!!! And we see a bicyclist flying over Oscar's car. Oscar screeches to a halt. They jump out of the car.

OSCAR

Oh my God. Are you okay?

The guy gets up. He's fine.

BIKE GUY

Yeah, I'm fine.

OSCAR

Are you sure? Is anything broken? I'm so sorry.

BIKE GUY

It was my fault. I ran a light.

Oscar starts hyperventilating.

OSCAR

I could have killed you. What if you had cracked your head open? I'd have blood on my hands!

Elaine shakes him.

ELAINE

Oscar, calm down!

(beat)

(MORE)

CONTINUED: (2)

ELAINE (CONT'D)

You heard the man, he ran a light.
Come on, let's get out of here before he wants to sue.

She grabs him and pulls him into the car.

INT. BATHROOM - DAY

The camera is close on Michelle's head which is moving back and forth. We pull back to reveal Aaron. They are doing it standing up.

MICHELLE

What's taking you so long?

AARON

I just started.

MICHELLE

You want this baby as much me. Come on.

AARON

I'm trying.

MICHELLE

If I didn't want you to come, you would have done it five minutes ago.

AARON

Do I have to do this today?

The door opens and a HOUSEKEEPER sticks her head in.

HOUSEKEEPER

Who's picking up Uncle Russell?--

Aaron and Elaine quickly pull apart. As the Housekeeper steps back out into the hall.

AARON

Oh shit, Uncle Russell.

Aaron fixes his pants as he exits the room.

INT. NORMAN'S CAR - MOVING - DAY

Norman's cell phone RINGS. He answers.

NORMAN

Hello?... How are you?... Okay...

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

AARON

I need you to pick up Uncle Russell.

INT. NORMAN'S CAR - MOVING - CONTINUOUS

NORMAN

Uncle Russell?! Damn! He's always in a bad mood.

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

AARON

It's not a mood if he's always in it. It's his personality. Can you do it?

INT. NORMAN'S CAR - MOVING - CONTINUOUS

NORMAN

Alright... Alright. I'll do it. See you soon. Bye.

Norman hangs up irritated.

EXT. WIDE SHOT OF A FREEWAY - DAY

We see Norman's car exiting the freeway.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron and Michelle are standing to the side as the undertakers place the coffin on the stand.

Brian nervously lifts the lid and Aaron looks inside.

BRIAN

(respectful)

So is this your father?

AARON

Come on, man. You know that's my father.

BRIAN

Just trying to be professional. What up, Michelle?

MICHELLE

(dryly)

Brian.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

He closes the lid and all four undertakers quietly head off.

Aaron looks up and sees his mother, Cynthia, has entered the room. Cynthia is clearly drained and tired. She stares at the coffin.

AARON

Mom, how are you feeling?

CYNTHIA

There were so many things we wanted to do... We were going to go to China.

AARON

China? You don't even like Chinese food.

CYNTHIA

That's not the point. I haven't been feeling good. Who knows how long I'm going to live without him. It happens all the time. One spouse goes and then the next. I mean, it might be different if I had a grandchild to take my mind off of everything.

MICHELLE

Cynthia, I--

They all cross to the coffin.

AARON

(cuts Michelle off)

Come on, Mom. You're healthy. You'll be fine. You've got your friends and family...

Cynthia, Aaron and Michelle stand around the coffin.

CYNTHIA

Where is Ryan? Have you heard from him?

AARON

He'll be here soon.

CYNTHIA

Just seeing that boy's face makes me feel better. I've missed him so much. My baby.

She looks down at the coffin. Aaron turns away frustrated. Michelle gently touches the coffin.

MICHELLE
Do you need anything, Cynthia?

CYNTHIA
Yeah, you can get your hand off my husband's coffin. You're leaving smudge marks.

Michelle tries to wipe it off with her sleeve.

EXT. STREET - JEFF'S HOUSE - DAY

MUSIC: "PAPER PLANE" by M.I.A.

Elaine and Oscar are walking up the stairs of a typical college apartment building.

INT. JEFF'S HOUSE - SAME

The music is coming from Jeff's speakers. JEFF, dressed for the funeral, sits at his desk. He's holding a pill bottle that says: "VALIUM."

JEFF
Yeah, I found them. The ones in the Valium bottle?... Yeah... I'll get them to you this evening... Can't do this afternoon... It's your fault you left them here... I've got a funeral... My uncle died... Yeah, tragic... No, I haven't taken any. I saw what they did to you... What are they anyway?...

The doorbell rings.

JEFF (CONT'D)
I've gotta go, my sister's here... I'll take them with me and stop by after the funeral... Bye.

The doorbell rings again.

JEFF (CONT'D)
Hang on!

Jeff stands up and we see that he's only half dressed for the funeral. He doesn't have any pants on.

CONTINUED:

He puts the bottle on the counter then crosses to the door and lets Elaine and Oscar inside.

JEFF (CONT'D)

Hey, what's up?

ELAINE

Do you always open the door half naked? Come on, Jeff. We're going to be late.

JEFF

I've just got to put my pants on and I'm ready.

Oscar is still a little shaky.

JEFF (CONT'D)

(re: Oscar)

Is he okay?

ELAINE

Oscar's freaked out. A guy on a bike ran into the car.

OSCAR

It came out of nowhere. I didn't see him. I'm sorry.

ELAINE

It's okay, baby.
(then to Jeff)
Go put your damn pants on.

JEFF

I'm going. I'm going.

Jeff heads off to the bathroom and closes the door. Elaine spots the bottle of Valium on the table and picks it up.

ELAINE

Here. Take this... It'll calm you down.

OSCAR

What is it?

ELAINE

It's just Valium.
(gets a glass of water)
I used to take them all the time...
It'll make you feel better, promise.

(CONTINUED)

OSCAR

Are you sure? I mean, I've got to drive.

ELAINE

It'll be okay. I'll drive, honey.
Come on, open wide.

She pops the pill in his mouth and hands him some water. Oscar swallows.

Jeff returns wearing pants.

JEFF

Ready. Let's do it.

Oscar and Elaine leave, Jeff surreptitiously picks up the Valium bottle, puts it in his pocket, then follows them out.

INT/EXT. ENTRY WAY - SAME TIME

CAMERA is in the entry way now shooting outside. A TOWN CAR exits, leaving Ryan in front of the house. RYAN, Aaron's younger brother is taller, more confident, and more successful. He moves slowly towards CAMERA and through the front doorway as CAMERA PULLS BACK with him.

RYAN

Hello! Mom!

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Michelle, Aaron and Cynthia are on the couch as Ryan enters the living room.

CYNTHIA

Ryan!

Cynthia runs over to Ryan and flings her arms around him. Aaron looks a bit lost in the background with Michelle but they walk over.

RYAN

I know this is hard, Mom. But you're going to be okay.

CYNTHIA

You always know exactly what to say, Ryan. I'm so glad you're here.

RYAN

I'm always here for you, Mom.

CONTINUED:

AARON

I guess if people died every week, we'd see you all the time.

Ryan turns to Aaron and Michelle.

RYAN

Aaron, how are you?

AARON

I'm alright.

MICHELLE

How was the flight?

RYAN

Okay. I had to buy the seat next to me because I don't trust the airlines with my bags. And there was a lot of turbulence... I guess that's the thing about flying first class. It doesn't matter how much you pay if the plane crashes, you still end up dead-- uh...

Ryan realizes what he's said and stops speaking abruptly. It's too much for Cynthia who rushes upstairs.

AARON

"End up dead"?

RYAN

Oh damn.

MICHELLE

I'll make sure she's okay.

Michelle heads off upstairs.

EXT. LAKEVIEW RETIREMENT COMMUNITY - SAME TIME

We see Norman's car turn into "Lakeview Retirement Community."
He drives past the sign and through a gate.

INT. NORMAN'S CAR/EXT. LAKEVIEW - DAY

Norman is driving behind three OLD LADIES on mobile chairs.
He's honking at them. He finally sees Uncle Russell.

NORMAN

There he is.

CONTINUED:

DEREK

You didn't tell me the guy was in a wheelchair.

UNCLE RUSSELL, an elderly man in a wheelchair, sits in his chair.

Norman drives forward and stops alongside the old man. He rolls down his window and speaks very slowly with a huge smile on his face.

NORMAN

(over enunciating)

Hello, Uncle Russell. How are you?
We're here to take you to the funeral.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Where the fuck have you been, you fat bastard? You're late. If you took any longer I'd be dead, too.

The fake smile falls off Norman's face.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Ryan sees the coffin and slowly heads over with Aaron trailing behind. He stands over the coffin. It finally registers that his DAD is actually in there.

RYAN

It's hard to see Dad like this. But he's in a better place now.

AARON

When does dead beat sick?

RYAN

I guess you're right. This is why I try not to get close to people. There's too much emotion involved.

AARON

Well that explains why you never call.

RYAN

What do you want me to say? Some families talk to each other all the time, some just see each other at funerals. That's us.

AARON

I guess it is.

CONTINUED:

Ryan takes a seat in one of the chairs flanking the coffin.
Aaron sits as well.

AARON (CONT'D)

By the way, I'm going to need that money.

RYAN

What money?

AARON

The money for all this... the funeral.
You're supposed to pay half.

RYAN

What about the insurance?

AARON

That's Mom's money.

RYAN

What about the pension?

AARON

That's Mom's money.

RYAN

Oh.

AARON

So we're splitting the cost.

RYAN

Are we?

AARON

Yes. We are.

RYAN

Oh, okay.

AARON

So?

RYAN

I don't have it right now.

AARON

What do you mean, you don't have it?
You just bought a first class seat for your bag.

RYAN

And that's why I don't have any cash.

INT. ELAINE'S CAR - MOVING - DAY

Elaine is now driving, Oscar is sitting in the passenger seat looking a little spaced out, with Jeff in the back.

Jeff leans forward.

JEFF

So, poor old Uncle Eddie...

ELAINE

Yeah. But he was sick for so long.
He's much better off now.

JEFF

Dead? Since when does dead beat sick?

ELAINE

Shut up, Jeff.

Jeff turns his attention to Oscar.

JEFF

I love when you come to family functions, Oscar. Because then Dad focuses all his hate on you.

There's no response from Oscar. He looks distantly out the window. The pills are starting to kick in.

JEFF (CONT'D)

Oscar?

OSCAR

Was there a dog in here just now?

Elaine looks at Oscar very strangely.

ELAINE

What?

He sniffs.

OSCAR

Dalmatian? No, Schnauzer...

A beat.

CONTINUED:

ELAINE

What the hell are you talking about?

Oscar falls silent and just goes back to looking out the window.

INT. NORMAN'S CAR - LATER

Uncle Russell is asleep in the back. Norman is looking for a parking space, but the street and long driveway are packed with cars. A catering truck and flower van are taking up a lot of space.

NORMAN

There's nowhere to park.

Then the small flower delivery van pulls out. Derek points out the newly empty space.

DEREK

That truck is pulling out. Park there.

NORMAN

Alright.

Just as he's about to drive in, another car takes it.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

What the hell?

EXT. DRIVEWAY - CONTINUOUS

Norman gets out of the car. The other car contains Jeff, Oscar and Elaine. Jeff gets out first followed by Elaine.

NORMAN

Elaine, I was going to park there.

ELAINE

Are you family, Norman?

NORMAN

Well, no, but I'm like family.

ELAINE

No such thing.

Derek leans out the window.

DEREK

Hi, Elaine.

(CONTINUED)

ELAINE

What are you doing here?

DEREK

Your father invited me.

ELAINE

Oh please.

She grabs Oscar and heads to the house followed by Jeff.

INT. NORMAN'S CAR - CONTINUOUS

Norman gets back into his car. Uncle Russell stirs.

UNCLE RUSSELL

What's happening?

DEREK

Did you see that?... She totally blew me off.

The flower delivery van has been waiting to move forward. It's driver beeps the horn.

UNCLE RUSSELL

I said what's happening? Are we there?

Norman turns around and looks at Uncle Russell.

NORMAN

Aw, damn. I have Uncle Russell. How could I forget about Uncle Russell?

Derek has other concerns and the van beeps again.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

(to the Van)

Yeah, alright!!

UNCLE RUSSELL

What the hell is going on?

Uncle Russell pokes Norman with his cane.

NORMAN

Ow.

DEREK

...barely even looked.

CONTINUED:

Norman, now highly irritated, is forced to drive backwards.

EXT. FRONT OF HOUSE - DAY

Oscar, Elaine and Jeff are walking to the house as other people arrive.

OSCAR

It's very green here, isn't it?...
Green... Very green... Very... green.

Elaine takes Oscar to the side.

ELAINE

Oscar, are you alright?

OSCAR

What do you mean?

ELAINE

All this talking about phantom dogs and things being green... What's going on?

OSCAR

What are you talking about? I'm fine.
Never been greener.

Oscar wanders off, leaving Elaine with Jeff.

JEFF

Elaine, what's wrong with Oscar?

ELAINE

I don't know. Something's not right...

ANGLE ON: Oscar as he wanders around the yard.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

I think it's the Valium.

JEFF

Valium?!

ELAINE

I gave him a Valium at your place. I think he's just not used to it.

JEFF

Oh, right.

CONTINUED:

Jeff's face reveals his realization of what's happened. He walks off, leaving Elaine watching Oscar.

EXT. DRIVEWAY - DAY

Norman's car is almost at the corner still being forced backwards by the flower van. We see that Derek is still lost in his own thoughts.

Uncle Russell is poking at Norman with his cane.

UNCLE RUSSELL

You're going the wrong way!

NORMAN

Ow! That hurts.

DEREK

Stop the car, Norman.

NORMAN

What?

DEREK

Stop the car. I have to speak with her. I have to speak with Elaine.

Norman reluctantly stops the car. Derek gets out.

NORMAN

What about Uncle Russell? I need help with Uncle Russell!

It's too late. Derek is gone. The van in front of Norman honks the horn.

UNCLE RUSSELL

What's going on here? Where are we?! We're going to be late!

Russell hits him on the arm with his cane.

NORMAN

Ow! Can you please stop doing that?!

The van keeps beeping. Norman backs up.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Ryan is standing with Aaron. They greet the mourners.

CONTINUED:

RYAN
(to mourner)
Nice to see you again.

The mourner shakes hands with Ryan then walks away.

RYAN (CONT'D)
Who are all these people? I don't even recognize half of them.

AARON
It's your family. You don't recognize them from the last funeral?

Ryan looks around the room.

RYAN
So what side of the family is he on?

AARON Who?

RYAN
The guy in the leather jacket.

Ryan looks around the room and sees a FOUR FOOT SIX MAN (FRANK) approaching the coffin.

AARON
I have no idea. Maybe a friend of Dad's from work or something.

Aaron turns to Ryan.

AARON (CONT'D)
So, you're telling me I'm going to have to pay for the whole funeral?

RYAN
No I'm telling you you'll have the money in a few months when I get my advance.

AARON
I'm not a God damn credit agency!

REVEREND DAVIS, a very calm, serene woman, suddenly appears.

REVEREND DAVIS
Aaron, how are you?

CONTINUED: (2)

AARON

Yes, um... We're just waiting for everyone to arrive, then we can get going. I know you're in a hurry.

REVEREND DAVIS

Yes, I have two more funerals and a Christening. I don't know what it is about the Spring, but they're either coming in or going out.

She laughs, but Aaron and Ryan just look at her. Reverend Davis stands there waiting to be introduced to Ryan.

AARON

Have you met my brother, Ryan?

REVEREND DAVIS

Ah, the writer, of course. I must admit I squeezed this job in because I wanted to meet you. I'm reading "Mama's Secret" right now. Don't tell anybody, I'm not supposed to be reading that kind of stuff.

RYAN

I'm sure the Lord will forgive you.

Aaron is irritated.

REVEREND DAVIS

(to Aaron)

You must be very proud of your big brother. He really made something of his life.

(to Ryan)

I can't wait to hear your eulogy.

AARON

No, no, I'm doing the eulogy.

REVEREND DAVIS

Oh. I thought...

RYAN

Aaron is the oldest.

The reverend tries her best not to look disappointed.

REVEREND DAVIS

Great... Well, I'll just make sure I have everything I need.

CONTINUED: (3)

She looks at the coffin and then at the Bible in her hands.

REVEREND DAVIS (CONT'D)

We've got a body and a Bible. Well,
I'm all set.

She walks off.

AARON

Look, I think you should do the eulogy. Everyone's expecting you to do it.

RYAN

No, they're not. You're the oldest.
You should do it.

AARON

Look most of the people are here for Dad, but let's not kid ourselves. A lot of them are here to hear your eulogy.

RYAN

So imagine how surprised they'll be when they hear yours.

Ryan walks away.

INT. KITCHEN - DAY

Cynthia is helping prepare the food to go out. Michelle is in the background at the sink. DUNCAN, Cynthia's brother, a middle aged doctor, approaches.

DUNCAN

How's my little sister?

CYNTHIA

I'm trying to hold it together,
Duncan. He was a really good husband.
My friends always told me about the crap their husbands put them through.
I never had to deal with any of that.
Remember when Uncle Matt got that nanny pregnant?

DUNCAN

That was horrible.

CONTINUED:

CYNTHIA

They don't make 'em like my Edward anymore. A good husband and a great father to two healthy, strong boys.

Michelle cringes in the background.

MICHELLE

(to Cynthia)

I'll make you a cup of coffee, Cynthia.

CYNTHIA

Coffee can do many things Michelle, but it can't bring back the dead.

Beat.

MICHELLE

Tea?

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Aaron finds a quiet place in the hallway and pulls out his notes.

AARON

(reads)

"My father was an exceptional man...
My father was an exceptional man...
My father was an exceptional man..."

Michelle approaches him.

MICHELLE

Honey, we still need to finish that thing. Remember today is the last day.

AARON

Can we talk about this when there's a little less death in the air?

MICHELLE

No. No we can't.

AARON

Honey, I'm just not in the mood...

MICHELLE

I don't have any panties on.

CONTINUED:

AARON

What? You don't have any panties on?
It's my father's funeral.

MICHELLE

I'm just trying to help you out. I'll put them back on before the service starts. Now come on.

They turn. Aaron looks around the corner into the living room and sees the four foot six man standing by a table. Aaron stops Michelle.

AARON

Babe, don't make it obvious, but that guy in the leather jacket standing by the wall. Don't look. Don't look.
Don't look.

Michelle catches a glimpse of the guy.

AARON (CONT'D)

Do you recognize him?

MICHELLE

Isn't that the guy from the Home Depot?

AARON

No, I don't think so. Don't look.
Don't look.

MICHELLE

Did he put in the cable?

AARON

No, no, that's not it. He keeps looking at me. Don't look. Don't look.

MICHELLE

He's probably just a friend of your father's. I'll meet you in the garage. We have a few minutes before Uncle Russell gets here.

Michelle walks off. Aaron peeks around the corner again and makes eye contact with the four foot six inch man, who seems to be staring straight at him. Aaron averts his eyes and heads off.

EXT. ROAD - DAY

Norman parks the car and gets out. He goes to the trunk and removes the wheelchair.

UNCLE RUSSELL

What are you doing?! Be careful with that.

Uncle Russell bangs his cane on the floor impatiently.

UNCLE RUSSELL (CONT'D)

Hurry up, we're late.

Norman slams the trunk closed.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron tries to get across the room as Michelle heads into the kitchen.

Ryan stops Aaron.

AARON

Oh, Ryan can you keep an eye out--

RYAN

God damn, that Martina has grown up.

ANGLE ON: MARTINA, nineteen and attractive.

AARON

Are you talking about Little Martina?

RYAN

She was like a teenager when I left, and now she's... you know. She's like damn.

Aaron looks distastefully at his brother.

AARON

Can you keep an eye out for Uncle Russell?

RYAN

I think I should go see how she's been.

AARON

Yeah, why don't you do that? See if she wants a juice box.

CONTINUED:

Ryan heads off towards Martina. Aaron continues across the room.

FRANK (O.S.)

Hi there.

Aaron turns and finds himself cornered by Frank.

AARON

Hello.

FRANK

I was really sorry to hear about your dad. He talked about you a lot. I saw your wedding pictures. Your wife's dress was very beautiful.

Aaron is a little uncomfortable.

AARON

Uh... thanks.

MAN

Did he ever mention me?... Frank?

Frank steps forward and holds out his hand. Aaron shakes it.

AARON

Frank?... I don't think so, no... Were you a friend of his?

FRANK

Something like that, yeah.

Michelle sticks her head out of the kitchen.

MICHELLE

Honey. Can I see you for a moment?

AARON

Well, nice to meet you. Thanks for coming.

Aaron walks away, leaving Frank alone.

EXT. STREET - SAME TIME

WIDE SHOT: Norman struggles to push Uncle Russell up a hill.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

UNCLE RUSSELL

Come on, put your back into it.
You're supposed to be a young man.
Don't you have any strength?

INT. HALLWAY - MOMENTS LATER

Aaron has almost made it across the room when he is intercepted by Reverend Davis.

REVEREND DAVIS

I think we should get started. I really have to leave at three.

AARON

Sure. Can we just wait five minutes for my Uncle Russell? We can't start without him.

REVEREND DAVIS

...Of course.

EXT. FRONT OF HOUSE - DAY

Elaine and Jeff are talking to some mourners.

ELAINE

It's so nice to see you.

WOMAN

I'm so sorry to hear about your uncle.
But he's in a better place now. I hear Ryan is doing the eulogy.

Oscar, carrying a leaf, interrupts the conversation.

OSCAR

Look... Isn't it beautiful?

He wanders off again. Elaine doesn't know what the hell is going on.

JEFF

Elaine, can I speak to you for a minute?

ELAINE

(to the mourner)
I'll see you inside.

Jeff takes Elaine's arm with some urgency and moves off to the side.

CONTINUED:

ELAINE (CONT'D)

What? What is it?!

JEFF

I have to tell you something and, I'm warning you in advance, you're not going to like it.

Elaine looks at Jeff concerned.

INT. LIVING ROOM - SAME TIME

Aaron is intercepted again by Duncan who is talking to Ryan.

DUNCAN

Aaron. How are we doing on time?

AARON

As soon as Uncle Russell gets here we'll be ready to start.

DUNCAN

So what's this I hear about Ryan not doing the eulogy?

RYAN

I was just telling him how much I'm looking forward to hearing your eulogy.

DUNCAN

That's a shame. I mean, I'm sure you'll be good, Aaron. It's just with Ryan being the writer of the family...

AARON

Yeah.

DUNCAN

There are people here that don't even know your father. They just came to hear Ryan.

AARON

Would you excuse me?

Aaron walks away.

DUNCAN

(to Ryan)

So any new books coming out? I just finished "Black Hurt."

INT. GARAGE - SAME TIME

Aaron closes the door behind him. Michelle is waiting. They start kissing and pulling at each other's clothes. Aaron stops and leans on the door and sighs.

MICHELLE

Are you alright?

AARON

Every single person wants Ryan to do the eulogy. He was my father, too. I'm supposed to do the damn eulogy! I'm the oldest. Where was Ryan when I was taking care of Dad?

MICHELLE

Calm down. Calm down. Forget about everyone. You're going to do the eulogy and it's going to be the best eulogy anyone's every heard. Now could you please do me a favor and get me pregnant?

AARON

Come on, do I have to do this today?

MICHELLE

Yes. What do you want? You want me to talk dirty? I'm gonna suck it. I'm gonna to suck it.

Before Michelle can continue her PG rated dirty talk, there is a knock on the door.

MAN

Is there more soda in here?

AARON

Yes! Come in!

Michelle is frustrated.

EXT. FRONT OF HOUSE - DAY

Elaine is looking at Jeff in absolute shock.

ELAINE

What do you mean it's not Valium?

CONTINUED:

JEFF

I mean what you thought was Valium, wasn't actually Valium. It's a hallucinogenic. Like, acid, mescaline... Special K...

Oscar moves in the background behind Elaine and Jeff. Elaine looks at him. He's making strange contorted expressions with his face and pointing at the sky. Other people are starting to notice him and think he's slightly odd.

ELAINE

This isn't funny, Jeff.

JEFF

I'm not being funny. Look at him, he's high as a kite!

Oscar sticks his head into a huge bush.

ELAINE

What the hell are you doing leaving that stuff around your house?!

JEFF

A friend left it. And who the hell just goes into someone's house and takes pills?

ELAINE

I thought they were Valium!
(takes a deep breath)
What am I supposed to do? Should I tell him?

JEFF

No, don't do that. It'll just freak him out... We'll just keep a close eye on him, and make sure he doesn't get out of control... And don't let him spend too long talking to one person... or bush.

Oscar wanders into the front door. Elaine quickly follows him. Jeff reluctantly follows Elaine. Derek arrives in time to see this and follows as well.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Oscar wanders in, followed by Elaine and Jeff. Duncan sees them enter and approaches them.

CONTINUED:

ELAINE

Hi, Dad. How are you?

She gives him a kiss.

DUNCAN

Not bad considering we're at a funeral.

Jeff steps forward.

JEFF

Hi, Dad.

He shakes his hand.

DUNCAN

How's Pepperdine treating you? Is Professor Clarke still giving you a hard time?

JEFF

No, no. It's all worked out. Don't worry.

DUNCAN

I'm not worried about you.

Duncan looks pointedly at Elaine, irritating her. Duncan looks at Oscar who is in the background.

DUNCAN (CONT'D)

So I see you brought your friend.

ELAINE

He's my boyfriend. And you know his name.

Derek approaches.

DEREK

Doctor, how nice to see you again.

DUNCAN

Derek. How are you doing at the hospital?

DEREK

Great. Great. We should have lunch soon. I'd love to hear what you think about the new pediatric wing at Cedar's.

DUNCAN

Definitely. Maybe Elaine would like to join us for lunch?

They both look expectantly at Elaine who looks away disgusted.
Cynthia comes up to them and kisses Elaine and Jeff hello.
Oscar stares at her.

CYNTHIA

Elaine... Jeff... good to see you.

ELAINE

I'm so sorry, Auntie. We're going to miss Uncle Edward so much.

JEFF

Yeah. He was a great guy.

CYNTHIA

Thank you.

ELAINE

Oscar, this is my Aunt--

Oscar grabs Cynthia in a tight hug.

OSCAR

I'm so sorry about... the death...

He sings "Amazing Grace" softly as Duncan, Derek, Jeff and Elaine look on.

OSCAR (CONT'D)

Amazing Grace / How sweet the sound /
That saved a wretch like me...

Cynthia untangles herself from Oscar. She heads back outside.
Duncan gives Elaine a look, then heads off after Cynthia.

JEFF

What are you going to do?

ELAINE

I don't know. I can't leave. Aunt
Cynthia would never speak to me again.

Jeff notices that Oscar has left. He rushes outside. Elaine follows. Derek follows suit.

EXT. FRONT OF HOUSE - DAY

We see Oscar emerging from the front doorway followed by Jeff. Then comes Elaine.

Jeff approaches Oscar and stands with him as Elaine watches from the doorway. Derek walks up.

DEREK
You look nice, Elaine.

ELAINE
I'm dressed for a funeral.

DEREK
Yeah, but you make death look sexy.

She looks at him.

DEREK (CONT'D)
So, I heard about the engagement.

ELAINE
Hey, hey. I don't really have time to deal with whatever happened between you and me. But I have not told my dad yet, so I would appreciate it if you would keep your mouth shut.

DEREK
Sure. Anything for you.

Derek looks over and notices Oscar looking bewildered.

DEREK (CONT'D)
So that's him? That's the man you're going to spend the rest of your life with?

Elaine looks over at the drugged up Oscar. Oscar leans over like he's on a nod. Jeff leans down with him, watching. Right before Oscar falls over, he comes up really fast. Then he starts walking.

ELAINE
Yep, that's him.

Oscar who has been walking in circles with a look of awe on his face, changes direction and flies by Elaine and Derek back into the house with Jeff in tow.

CONTINUED:

DEREK

Elaine, I-

Elaine follows the guys, leaving Derek behind.

INT. LIVING ROOM - SAME TIME

Aaron is straightening his tie and practicing his eulogy.

AARON

My father was an exceptional man...
My father was--

Frank again approaches Aaron.

FRANK

Actually, there's something I'd like to talk to you about... when you have a minute.

Aaron hears Uncle Russell in the background.

AARON

Yeah, that's great. Do you mind if we do it later though? My uncle just got here.

FRANK

Sure.

Aaron heads off.

EXT. FRONT PORCH OF HOUSE - SAME TIME

Norman pushes Russell up the stairs close to where Derek is standing. He looks like he's about to collapse from exhaustion.
Norman lets go of the wheelchair and catches his breath. Derek grabs the chair blocking Norman from view just as Aaron arrives.

AARON

Thank you, Derek, you're a life saver.
Hope it wasn't too much trouble.

DEREK

No problem at all.

Aaron wheels Uncle Russell inside.

AARON

How are you doing, Uncle Russell?

CONTINUED:

UNCLE RUSSELL

Terrible.

Derek follows, leaving Norman standing there out of breath.

NORMAN

Can I get a little help?

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron enters and nods to Reverend Davis, who stands at the front.

REVEREND DAVIS

Ladies and gentlemen, could you all kindly take your seats? We're about to begin the service.

Ryan helps Martina to her seat. Jeff keeps an eye on Oscar. Elaine grabs Oscar and drags him to a seat. Aaron wheels Uncle Russell to his place.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Move! Move!

He pokes people with his cane. Aaron then takes his seat with Michelle.

Oscar is not looking so good.

Ryan finally ends the conversation with Martina and heads to his seat.

Reverend Davis is about to start, but waits as Norman, sweating, pushes through the crowd to his seat. The reverend waits for the disturbance to end, so Norman attracts the attention of everyone. Norman takes his seat next to Derek. Derek leans away.

DEREK

(sniffs)

You stink.

REVEREND DAVIS

Family and friends, we're gathered here today to mourn the passing of Edward Barnes.

NORMAN

Yeah, well, you left me to push Uncle Russell up that damn hill all by myself. Then took all the credit.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

Elaine, turns around.

ELAINE

Norman, shut up.

Elaine turns back around. Norman is irritated by this.

REVEREND DAVIS

I'd like to start with a favorite passage of Edwards from First Samuel chapter 18, verses 1-4 in the King James Bible.

(reading)

"And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking unto Saul, that the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul. And Saul took him that day, and would let him go no more home to his father's house..."

While the reverend is talking, Norman pokes Elaine on the shoulder and leans forward.

NORMAN

(whispers)

Hey, Elaine, I know you don't think I'm part of the family--

ELAINE

'Cause you're not.

NORMAN

(whispers)

...but when you dissed me back there, I had Uncle Russell in the car.

Aaron, disturbed by Norman's whispering, looks over.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

(whispers)

You stole my parking space, and I had to push him half a mile up a hill. We almost missed the service!

Aaron looks over again.

ELAINE

(whispers)

Look, Norman, if you poke me one more time, I'm going to kick your ass.

(CONTINUED)

AARON
(whispers loudly)
What the hell is going on?!

NORMAN
(whispers)
She stole my parking space!

AARON
(whispers to Norman) Stole your parking space?! My father's dead! Act right.

Reverend Davis looks at them then continues her speech.

REVEREND DAVIS
..."Then Jonathan and David made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul..."

As she speaks, Norman looks at his wrist, worried. The woman sitting next to him smacks his wrist down.

ANGLE ON: Elaine looks at Jeff who watches Oscar. Oscar is fidgeting and looking worried.

ANGLE ON: Aaron and Michelle. Aaron looks worried.

REVEREND DAVIS (CONT'D)
..."And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was upon him, and gave it to David, and his garments, even to his sword and to his bow, and to his girdle."

ANGLE ON: Oscar is laughing. Elaine tries to control him.

REVEREND DAVIS (CONT'D)
And now we'll have a few words from Edward's son, Aaron. Ryan's older brother.

ANGLE ON: Aaron as he gathers himself. Michelle gives Aaron a supportive squeeze of the arm. Aaron looks over and sees Frank staring at him.

ANGLE ON: Uncle Russell.

UNCLE RUSSELL
Why isn't Ryan doing the eulogy? This is bullshit.

CONTINUED: (3)

Aaron arrives at the front and looks out across the expectant crowd. He's extremely nervous.

AARON

Good afternoon, everyone.

(his voice cracks)

Thank you for coming... I never realized Dad was so popular. It looks like he's got more friends now that he's dead.

Blank faces stare back at Aaron. Cynthia looks pained. Everyone is silent except for Oscar who laughs loudly. Elaine silences him with a look. Aaron composes himself and pulls his notes out.

AARON (CONT'D)

My father was an exceptional man... He was born in 1938. He grew up in Alabama on a farm. He loved to take long walks in the woods with his close friend, Bobby. He told me how they spent their summer days riding their bikes through the fields and swimming in the lake.

As Aaron speaks, Reverend Davis looks concerned because the eulogy is so bad. She looks to Ryan who looks like "what can I do?"

Jeff looks more concerned with Oscar, whose face is contorted with pain. He looks like he's going to burst.

ANGLE ON: Aaron.

AARON (CONT'D)

Dad's first job was working after school as an assistant to an electrician named Mr. Thompson. Back then, Blacks weren't allowed to wear rubber gloves. So my father got shocked a lot. Because of that, he had no feeling in his fingertips. I asked my Dad what his first boss was like...

The drugs have gotten the best of Oscar. He suddenly grabs Elaine's arm. Aaron keeps talking.

OSCAR

Did you just see that?

(CONTINUED)

ELAINE

See what?

OSCAR

The coffin just moved.

ELAINE

What?

OSCAR

I'm telling you I saw it move.

Aaron becomes vaguely aware of the disturbance, but battles on with his eulogy.

AARON

...He said he was a nice man, and surprisingly well dressed. When Dad was eighteen, he left home after an argument with his father. He never told me what that argument was about, but I do know that after leaving South Carolina, sadly he and Bob lost touch and never saw each other again. Dad went to college where he studied accounting, a decision which led to a career in corporate finance... But his real passion was for the arts, with a particular fondness for theatre, dance and musicals. He was a charter member of the Negro Ensemble Company and contributed regularly to the Alvin Ailey School of Dance.

Oscar's protests are getting louder. Duncan looks back at the disruption with a disapproving glare. Elaine looks at Jeff who watches, concerned.

OSCAR

There, look. It happened again.

ELAINE

Oscar, please-

People start looking at Oscar, who's becoming increasingly vocal, and looking increasingly like someone on acid.

OSCAR

That coffin's moving!

ELAINE
(whispers)
Oscar. Just calm down.

Aaron looks over to Oscar.

OSCAR (shouts)
The coffin's moving!

Michelle looks worried. Cynthia watches silently. Oscar jumps up. Aaron stops the eulogy. Elaine is about to die from embarrassment.

OSCAR (CONT'D)
There's someone alive in there!

ELAINE
Oscar, please sit down.

Oscar ignores her and walks purposefully towards the coffin. People watch him in astonishment, including Jeff.

OSCAR
What the hell is wrong with you people?!

Oscar approaches the coffin as Aaron steps off the dais. Elaine tries to hold Oscar back, but she can't.

ELAINE (panicked)
Oscar, where are you going?

AARON
What are you doing?

OSCAR
There's someone moving in there.
Can't you see?

Oscar tries to open the coffin. Aaron and Elaine try to restrain him, but can't. A tussle begins. Ryan jumps in to help.

RYAN
What the hell is wrong with you?!

ELAINE
Ryan, no!

CONTINUED: (6)

Elaine attempts to grab Ryan. Duncan stands up and tries to help.

DUNCAN

Get away from there!

OSCAR

No, I have to show you! He's alive!
He's alive!

The scene descends into absolute chaos with people pushing and struggling. Finally, the coffin falls off the platform and tips over.

The dead body of Edward rolls out onto the floor at the feet of Cynthia. Cynthia screams.

Aaron freezes in shock. Michelle takes Cynthia through the kitchen. The living room is left in chaos.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - MOMENTS LATER

Elaine drags Oscar out the back. Jeff follows.

INT. KITCHEN - SAME TIME

Cynthia, in tears, enters accompanied by Aaron, Michelle and Reverend Davis.

MICHELLE

It's alright, Cynthia. It's alright.

She sits in a chair crying uncontrollably. Aaron is so angry, he just marches out.

INT. LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Some MEN grab the body and put it back in the coffin. Aaron comes out of the kitchen and heads to the back yard. As they put the coffin back on the stand, Ryan addresses the crowd.

RYAN

Please let me extend my apologies to you all. I understand the incident you just witnessed was quite shocking, but everything will be... returned... to it's proper place. Please enjoy the refreshments, and we'll call you when we're ready to continue.

CONTINUED:

UNCLE RUSSELL

It wouldn't have happened if Ryan had done the eulogy.

Aaron exits through the garden door.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - DAY

Aaron storms out to Elaine who is trying to comfort Oscar. He's looking very disturbed. Jeff is also there, looking guilty.

AARON

Elaine, what the hell was that?!

ELAINE

I'm so sorry, Aaron.

AARON

Oh, okay. My dead father's sprawled out on the living room floor, but it's okay, you're sorry.

OSCAR

But the coffin was moving.

ELAINE

Please, Aaron. Go back inside. I'll explain later.

An annoyed and confused Aaron turns and walks back to the house. He's almost to the door when Michelle arrives.

MICHELLE

Aaron--

AARON

No, I haven't made the call about the down payment yet.

MICHELLE

I wasn't going to say that.

AARON

No I'm not going to have sex with you.

MICHELLE

I wasn't going to say that.

AARON

What were you going to say?

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

MICHELLE

(weakly)

Hi.

He goes inside leaving Michelle standing there. Duncan comes out and heads for Oscar.

DUNCAN

I'll kill him!

Elaine tries to keep Duncan away from Oscar, who is stressed enough and looks terrified.

ELAINE

Dad, leave it alone!

DUNCAN

Leave it alone?! He just knocked my brother-in-law out of his coffin.

ELAINE

It wasn't his fault.

DUNCAN

Yes it was. My sister is in tears. I can't believe you brought this idiot! I don't ever want to see him again, do you understand me?

ELAINE

I can't do that.

DUNCAN

Why not?

ELAINE

Because we're... moving in together.

Duncan looks over at Oscar, who looks like he's just seen a ghost. He's struggling to stand up straight, with Jeff who's doing his best to look after him.

DUNCAN

Are you crazy?

ELAINE

Dad, this isn't actually what he's like. He took some drugs and--

DUNCAN

Drugs?! Is he on the pipe?

(CONTINUED)

Jeff looks over, his eyes pleading with Elaine not to tell on him.

ELAINE

No he's not on the pipe. He took some Valium and had a bad reaction.

Jeff looks grateful.

DUNCAN

Valium?! That's not a Valium high. Your mother was on Valium for forty years. She never knocked over a coffin.

ELAINE

Dad, please.

DUNCAN

I just want to point out that you won't see Derek knocking over a coffin.

ELAINE

Not right now, Dad.

DUNCAN

Fine. I've got to check on Cynthia, but this isn't over.

Duncan walks back to the house. Elaine walks over to Oscar who is hugging a tree.

ELAINE

Oscar.

OSCAR

Elaine.

ELAINE

Come and sit down.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron talks to a mourner. Norman comes up and hugs him.

NORMAN

Are you alright?... That was insane. He just fell out the coffin like a dead fish. I guess its not much of a metaphor when you're talking about a dead human, but--

CONTINUED:

Aaron looks at Norman.

AARON

Norman, please.

NORMAN

Oh yeah... Sorry. It's just that you never know when it's your time. Like, I have this weird thing on my wrist. I've had it for a few weeks now. I don't know what it is--

AARON

Why don't you show it to my Uncle Duncan? He's a doctor.

NORMAN

He is? Great. Thanks.

Norman walks off toward the kitchen. He passes Uncle Russell and Ryan talking to Martina.

UNCLE RUSSELL

I read your last book, "Black Hurt."

RYAN

Good, good. Thanks a lot.

UNCLE RUSSELL

I'm not giving you a compliment you arrogant bastard. What a load of bullshit. I wouldn't wipe my ass with it.

Ryan leads Martina away from Uncle Russell.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SITTING AREA - DAY

Oscar, Elaine and Jeff are standing together.

OSCAR

I swear it was moving. I must be losing my mind...

(looks at his hands)

Why are my hands so big?!

ELAINE

Oscar, listen to me. I need to tell you something...

Elaine sits him down on the bench.

CONTINUED:

OSCAR

What is it?

ELAINE

Now... You remember I gave you some Valium earlier?

OSCAR

Yes.

ELAINE

Well it turns out that it wasn't actually Valium.

Oscar just looks at Elaine. Jeff slinks off into the background.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Can you hear me?

OSCAR

(yells)

Hello?

INT. KITCHEN - DAY

Cynthia is being comforted by her friends and Duncan. Norman enters and beckons Duncan over to the side.

NORMAN

Hello, Doctor, I know this is a bad time, but I've got this thing on my hand. I've had it for weeks now...

Duncan is looking at Norman incredulously.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

What do you think it is?

Cynthia stands up.

CYNTHIA

Duncan, I'm going back now.

She exits. Reluctantly, Duncan answers Norman.

DUNCAN

You should probably go see a dermatologist.

He turns to follow his sister out, but Norman pulls him back.

(CONTINUED)

NORMAN

Really? Why? What do you think it is?

DUNCAN

I don't know. It looks like some kind of pigment mutation.

Duncan walks further out of the room.

NORMAN

Pigment mutation?!

Duncan turns again.

DUNCAN

You're probably just allergic to something. Maybe from shellfish, nuts...

Duncan heads further out of the room, but Norman won't give up.

NORMAN

Nuts? What kind of nuts?

Duncan turns around again.

DUNCAN

I don't know. Pecans? Peanuts?...
Excuse me.

Duncan finally exits, leaving Norman looking shocked and terrified.

NORMAN

(to himself)

A pigment mutation?

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SITTING AREA - DAY

Elaine is trying to explain to Oscar.

ELAINE

Do you understand? Hallucinogenic.

Oscar recoils. He turns to Jeff.

JEFF

Yeah, now, the best thing to do is relax and just go with the flow. Try and enjoy it.

Oscar stands up, panicked and grabs Jeff by the lapels. We see the bottle of "Valium" falls out of his pocket.

OSCAR
You!

ELAINE
Oscar!

She tries to pull him off Jeff.

OSCAR
How long does it last?

JEFF
I don't know... eight hours?

OSCAR
Eight hours?! Of this?!!

ELAINE
Oscar let go.

She pulls him off Jeff.

ANGLE ON: Derek watching from the window.

OSCAR
I'm going to be sick.

ANGLE ON: Derek smoothing his hair seeing his opportunity.

ANGLE ON: Oscar runs inside. Elaine follows with Jeff in tow.

ELAINE
Oscar! Come back.

They head into the house.

INT. BACK DOOR - DAY

Derek has been looking at Elaine outside and waiting for his moment. Elaine comes rushing in following Oscar.

DEREK
Oh, hi, Elaine. You following me?

She just runs right past, then Jeff rushes past following Elaine. Oscar pushes through people.

ELAINE
Excuse me. Sorry. Excuse me.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

Elaine grabs Oscar and leads him to the stairs.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Excuse me. He's going to be sick.

They head up the stairs with Jeff following.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - DAY

Elaine rounds the corner and leads Oscar to the bathroom. He goes in and shuts the door behind him.

INT. BATHROOM - DAY

Oscar is building up quite a sweat and mumbling to himself. He catches his reflection in the mirror and SCREAMS! Elaine opens the door.

ELAINE

Oscar.

Oscar grabs the hair-dryer and wields it like a gun.

OSCAR

Stand back!

ELAINE

Oscar, put down the dryer.

OSCAR

Get back or I'll blow your head off.

Oscar backs Elaine out of the bathroom.

ELAINE

Oscar, please--

Oscar shuts the door and locks it.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - SAME TIME

Elaine is pressed against the door.

ELAINE

Oscar, are you okay?

She tries to open the door, but it's locked. Jeff walks up checking his pockets.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Oscar, let me in.

CONTINUED:

Jeff realizes he lost the pill bottle.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Oscar. Oscar?

JEFF

Uh... Elaine... I can't find the pill bottle?

But Elaine is too busy to hear.

ELAINE

Oscar! Open the door.

Jeff looks at the floor as he leaves.

INT. BATHROOM - SAME TIME

Oscar is talking to himself in the mirror.

OSCAR

Okay. Breathe.

(he does)

It's going to be okay. Breathe. You're an investment banker. You've handled mergers for billion dollar companies. You can do this. Dead bodies don't move. They don't move. But that body was moving. It was moving.

Then he slaps himself.

OSCAR (CONT'D)

Snap out of it! You can handle this. You can do this.

He runs the tap and splashes some water on his face.

OSCAR (CONT'D)

Alright. You're okay. Stay calm... Stay calm....

Oscar is still staring at himself in the mirror.

OSCAR (CONT'D)

That's it, Oscar, keep it together. K.I.T. Keep it together. K.I.T. Keep it together. Everything's going to be fine. Nothing moved. Dead people don't move. They're stiff. They don't move, do they?

OSCAR (CONT'D)

mirror)
DO THEY!!!!

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR

Elaine has her ear pressed against the door. She hears the scream.

INT. BATHROOM - SAME TIME

OSCAR
Easy now. Easy now. We can do this.
A few hours. That's nothing. No sweat. I mean you've already been in here for...

He looks at his watch.

OSCAR (CONT'D)
Where's my watch?!

He sees it's on the other wrist.

OSCAR (CONT'D)
Oh!

He checks the time.

OSCAR (CONT'D)
It's already been...

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - SAME TIME

Elaine continues to knock on the door.

ELAINE
Open the door. Oscar.

INT. BATHROOM - SAME TIME

Oscar finally gets a read on his watch.

OSCAR
Five minutes.

Suddenly the pressure of the situation overtakes him.

OSCAR (CONT'D)
God damn! Shit! Shit! Shit! Shit!

INT. DOWNSTAIRS - SAME TIME

As the screaming and cursing goes on upstairs, Aaron approaches a mourner who looks concerned.

OSCAR (O.S.)
Shit! Shit! Shit! Shit! Shit!

AARON
It's alright.

Aaron turns around not knowing what to do.

FRANK (O.S.)
Grief does strange things to people.

Aaron looks at him a little freaked out by his sudden appearance.

AARON
I guess so.

FRANK
If you remember, I have something to talk to you about.

AARON
Oh yeah.

FRANK
Is there somewhere private we could go?

AARON
Sure.

They walk away. The screaming continues as Jeff, frantically, but slowly comes down the stairs re-tracing his steps and searching around for his lost bottle of pills.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Frank and Aaron enter. Frank looks around the room a little grief stricken himself. Aaron walks to the desk as Frank touches some mementoes he clearly remembers.

Frank takes out his glasses and notices a manuscript on the desk with Aaron's name.

FRANK
Are you writing a novel?

(CONTINUED)

AARON

Uh... yeah.

Aaron takes the manuscript and moves it away.

FRANK

Like your big brother.

AARON

Actually I'm the oldest. I was writing before he was. I've had a few pieces published in the New Yorker. But now I'm mainly teaching.

FRANK

Oh. Well, you must be very proud of your brother then. Getting all his novels published.

Aaron decides to move the conversation on.

AARON

So anyway. What did you want to talk about?

He motions for Frank to take a seat and sits across from him.

FRANK

Your father and I were very... close.

AARON

Yeah. Okay. That's good.

FRANK

And we spent a lot of time together.

AARON

Yeah, well Dad was a fun guy.

Frank takes an envelope out of his inside jacket pocket and takes some photos from the envelope.

FRANK

Um... I've got some photos I want to show you.

AARON

Sure.

Frank passes the first photo.

FRANK

That's me and your Dad in Central Park in New York.

Aaron looks at the photo curiously.

FRANK (CONT'D)

That's us on Santa Monica Boulevard on Halloween...

Aaron takes the next one, becoming more suspicious.

AARON

So, where did you and my dad meet?

FRANK

Just around.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - DAY

Elaine is outside the bathroom banging on the door. We can still hear Oscar moaning inside.

ELAINE

Oscar. Are you alright?

INT. BATHROOM - SAME TIME

Oscar is laying in the bathtub. He has his head under the faucet with his mouth open. A drip falls into his mouth.

OSCAR

Ahhh.

He smacks his lips together and then opens his mouth and waits for the next drop.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Aaron is sitting with Frank. Frank passes him another photo.

FRANK

That's one of me and your father going to the premiere of "Dreamgirls". I was dressed as Deena and your father had to be Effie.

Aaron looks at the photo of them dressed in drag.

CONTINUED:

AARON

So... I mean you have all these pictures, but he never said anything about you. This is the first I'm seeing of--

Frank gives Aaron a knowing look.

AARON (CONT'D)

How did you know my father?

Aaron looks around the room. There is a copy of "People Magazine" sexiest men issue on the table. He sees figurines of male ballet dancers. It's getting clearer. He sees three Robert Mapplethorpe photos on the wall. There's a signed Kathy Griffin 8x10. Frank looks around waiting for him to get it. Aaron looks at a framed movie poster for Australia with Hugh Jackman. Aaron looks back at the picture. He gets it.

AARON (CONT'D)

Oh God...

Aaron jumps up and closes the study door.

FRANK

Are you really that shocked?

Frank gestures around the room.

AARON

I had no idea.

FRANK

I'm sorry. I'm sure he would have eventually told you, but I guess he wasn't sure how you'd react.

Aaron shakes in disgust.

AARON

Ugg. Like this.

Aaron gathers his senses. He has a thought and turns to Frank.

AARON (CONT'D)

Does my mother know?

FRANK

No. And there's no reason why she should... Just as long as I get what's owed to me.

A long pause. Aaron looks over at Frank.

AARON

"What's owed to you"?

FRANK

Well, obviously I should get something... I mean, your dad and I were lovers, and he left me absolutely nothing in his will. How do you think that makes me feel?

Aaron fails to respond, because he's in too much shock.

FRANK (CONT'D)

I'll tell you how it makes me feel - cheap. Like some cheap piece of ass... I mean, I'm entitled to something.

AARON

What do you want?

FRANK

What I want is a lot, but I'm not asking you for what I want. I deserve thirty thousand dollars.

AARON

Thirty thousand dollars?! I can't just give you thirty thousand dollars. My wife and I are trying to have kids--

FRANK

Your father told me you were having trouble...

(beat)

Look, your father promised to take care of me, and I made sacrifices to keep him happy.

Aaron gets angry.

AARON

You think you can come in here, slander my father's name and show me a few photos of you and my dad dressed up going to see "Dreamgirls"? I saw "Dreamgirls" twice. I'm not gay. That's not proof of anything...
"Steppin' to the bad side / Gonna take a mean ride."

Aaron grabs Frank and pushes him against the wall.

AARON (CONT'D)

I'm not giving you anything but a--

Frank pulls out another photo and holds it up to Aaron's face. Aaron releases Frank and snatches the picture.

FRANK

Now I don't want to, but I will show these photos to your mother... Do you really want me to do that today?

AARON

Wait here.

He exits the study.

INT. ENTRY CORRIDOR - DAY

Aaron closes the study door behind him and almost bumps into two male mourners.

MIDDLE AGED MAN

Aaron, I was just telling George here how when we were boys together your dad used to love to make us all go skinny dipping.

Aaron just stares at them. Then he moves toward the living room.

INT. LIVING ROOM - BUFFET - DAY

Aaron crosses the living room which is full of people mingling around. He's gone pale.

AARON

(to himself)

Oh God, oh God, oh God...

He's looking around for Ryan, but there's no sign. Michelle watches Aaron walk around the room.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - SAME TIME

Elaine is banging on the bathroom door.

ELAINE

Oscar. Open the door.

Derek arrives behind her and leans in close.

CONTINUED:

DEREK

Anything I can do to help?

ELAINE

Not really, thanks.

Derek moves over to face her and leans his arm on the door very coolly.

DEREK

I guess you've got it under control.

Elaine ignores him and continues banging on the door.

ELAINE

Oscar?

Anguished noises emanate from the bathroom.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Oscar! Open the door.

DEREK

So what are you doing after the funeral? I've got Maxwell tickets.

ELAINE

Look... I'm busy. I don't have time for your shit. Now get the hell away from me!

Derek looks hurt and storms off.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Oscar!

INT. BACK OF KITCHEN - DAY

Ryan is talking to Martina.

RYAN

...so you've never been to New York?

MARTINA

I've been with my parents once.

RYAN

Oh, that's not really seeing New York. You have to come visit me. When's your birthday?

MARTINA

I turn eighteen next month.

RYAN

Great. All star weekend is in New York this year.

MARTINA

I know. I know.

Aaron approaches.

AARON

Ryan, I need to talk to you.

RYAN

Not now, Aaron.

AARON

It's important.

RYAN

Give me five minutes.

Aaron pulls him away.

INT. GARAGE - DAY

Aaron pulls Ryan into the garage and closes the door.

RYAN

What are you doing? What is it?

Aaron lowers his voice.

AARON

That guy that was here before, that we didn't recognize...

RYAN

The guy in the leather jacket?

AARON

Yeah.

RYAN

What about him?

Aaron lowers his voice further.

CONTINUED:

AARON

Well, I was just with him in the study, and... and he showed me some pictures...

RYAN

So? He showed you some picture? What's wrong with that? I'm busy...

AARON

Pictures of him and Dad together at the premiere of "Dreamgirls".

Ryan's face is blank. It's not registering.

RYAN

Look, is this going anywhere, Aaron?

AARON

Ryan, he was Dad's lover!

RYAN

What? No, no, no.

AARON

The guy in the leather jacket just showed me pictures of him and Dad together.

RYAN

No, no, no. I don't believe that. My father is not gay. I've known him my whole life. And he's the most non-gay man I've ever met. Matter fact, he's so straight he makes me seem gay. And I know I'm not gay--

Aaron pulls out the picture.

RYAN (CONT'D)

Uugg.

AARON

Uugg. I know.

RYAN/AARON

Uugg/Uugg.

Aaron nods.

INT. DINING AREA - SAME TIME

Norman and Derek are sitting at the table. Norman is looking at his wrist.

DEREK

How can she be more interested in that idiot than me? Women. They don't know what they want!

Norman's still examining his arm.

NORMAN

It sounds serious, doesn't it?

DEREK

What?

NORMAN

A pigment mutation.

Derek gives Norman a disparaging look. Norman picks up some cake and takes a bite.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

Ooh, will you try this cake? I think it might have nuts in it.

DEREK

So?

NORMAN

(shows his wrist)

So?... Aaron's uncle says I might be allergic to nuts...

DEREK

Then don't eat nuts. Put the cake down.

NORMAN

I can't not eat the cake. That's what I do when I'm stressed. I eat cake.

DEREK

I bet you won't eat it when your arm falls off.

Norman sniffs the cake.

CONTINUED:

NORMAN

Will you just try it and tell me if there's nuts in it?

DEREK

No.

NORMAN

Come on.

DEREK

I don't want to.

NORMAN

Just do me a favor--

Norman is pushing the cake towards Derek's mouth.

DEREK

Get away from me.

Derek gets up and walks off, leaving Norman spitting out the cake.

From under the table, Jeff pops up.

JEFF

You haven't seen a pill bottle around, have you? A Valium pill bottle?

NORMAN

No. But can you try this--

Jeff smiles nervously and goes back to his search on the floor.

Jeff slides across the floor past Uncle Russell sitting at the other end of the table. An OLDER LADY turns to Russell.

OLDER LADY

Edward and I watched the Tony Awards every year. We would get all dressed up and sip cocktails. I'm going to miss him so much.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Don't worry. The way you look, you won't be far behind.

The mourner looks shocked. Jeff continues his search along the floor.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SITTING AREA - DAY

Cynthia is sitting quietly with Duncan.

DUNCAN
I'm sure we'll start soon.

He looks toward the house and sees Norman exit. Duncan wants to avoid him.

DUNCAN (CONT'D)
(to Cynthia)
Let's go inside.

CYNTHIA
In a moment.

Duncan gets up and heads toward the house. He passes Norman.

NORMAN
Doctor, I just have a--

Duncan doesn't stop, leaving Norman holding his wrist. Norman looks over and sees Cynthia. He sits next to her.

NORMAN (CONT'D)
I'm sorry... you know... about... you know...

CYNTHIA
Thank you. I'll be alright. I know he's watching over me.

NORMAN
You think so? I mean, there are a lot of fine ones up in heaven. Anna Nicole Smith's dead too, you know. He might be watching over her.

Norman sits next to Cynthia.

NORMAN (CONT'D)
Death is a terrible thing... Did you check to make sure he was wearing shoes? I hear they steal the shoes. And I hope you took off his ring, 'cause if it's worth anything, someone is going to take that, too.

Cynthia stares at Norman.

CONTINUED:

NORMAN (CONT'D)

Before he died, did he have a rash?

She gets up and exits. Norman notices Jeff's pill bottle on the ground. He picks it up and puts it in his pocket.

INT. KITCHEN - LATER

The camera closes in on the closed garage door. We hear hushed voices.

INT. GARAGE - CONTINUOUS

AARON

You don't understand. If we don't give him the money, he's going to show Mom the picture.

RYAN

Okay. Let me think, let me think.

Ryan is trying to come up with a solution.

RYAN (CONT'D)

I think you should pay him the money.

AARON

What do you mean, you think I should pay him the money? Where the hell is all your money?

RYAN

I'm in debt up to my ass. I'm broke, man!

AARON

So after paying for the funeral, the clothes, the catering... Now I'm supposed to shell out thirty thousand dollars? He's your father, too.

RYAN

You're the oldest. Besides, you've been living off Mom and Dad long enough. You must have some money saved. You haven't paid rent in two years.

AARON

I have not been living off of them... I've been living with them.

(MORE)

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

AARON (CONT'D)

No I haven't paid rent, but Dad hasn't worked in five years. Who do you think has been paying all the bills?

RYAN

Well if you've got money problems and I've got money problems, what can we do? Fuck him!

Aaron shows Ryan the photo again.

RYAN (CONT'D)

You've got to pay him.

INT. BATHROOM - SAME TIME

Oscar is sitting on the toilet unrolling the toilet paper.

OSCAR

Yes, yes. Keep coming. Join the others. Join the others.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - SAME TIME

Elaine leans against the door.

ELAINE

Oscar?

OSCAR (O.S.)

Oscar?

ELAINE

Oscar?

She tries the door. It's still locked.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

Oscar?

OSCAR (O.S.)

Oscar?

ELAINE

Oscar.

OSCAR (O.S.)

Oscar.

ELAINE

Os...

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SITTING AREA - SAME TIME

Jeff frantically searches the bushes where Oscar pushed him, looking for the pill bottle. He finds nothing.

INT. LIVING ROOM - MOMENTS LATER

Uncle Russell is creating havoc at the buffet table. He's pushing people aside and poking them with his cane.

REVEREND DAVIS

Are you alright?

UNCLE RUSSELL

No, my nephew is dead and these bastards ate all the potato salad.

Nearby mourners look appalled. The reverend looks over and sees Aaron and Ryan coming down the kitchen corridor. She approaches them.

INT. KITCHEN CORRIDOR - DAY

Reverend Davis appears in front of Aaron and Ryan.

REVEREND DAVIS

Ah! I think we're just about ready to start the service, so-

AARON

Would you mind giving us five minutes?

REVEREND DAVIS

(not happy)
Of course.

AARON

Thanks.

Aaron walks off followed by Ryan. He passes Michelle, who's sitting on the couch. She stands up.

MICHELLE

Is everything okay?

AARON

No. I'm really sorry, honey, but buying a condo is going to have to be put on hold, just for now.

CONTINUED:

MICHELLE

What are you talking about? Why?

AARON

Babe, you know I wouldn't do this unless I had a good reason.

MICHELLE

What's the reason?

AARON

I haven't got time right now, please. I'll explain later.

MICHELLE

But--

Aaron walks off to join Ryan, who's at the door of the study.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Frank is reading Aaron's manuscript. Ryan and Aaron enter.

RYAN

(to Frank)

You? So you and my--. You?! It's you. So when I called my father and he didn't answer, he was with you?!

Aaron realizes what Frank is reading.

AARON

Hey, hey, hey!

Aaron rushes over and takes the manuscript away from Frank.

AARON (CONT'D)

What are you doing with my manuscript?! It's not ready.

He puts it in the desk.

FRANK

Well, you left it on a coffee table.

AARON

What's that supposed to mean?

FRANK

Well, when you put things on coffee tables, it's assumed it's for everybody.

CONTINUED:

RYAN

It kind of is...

AARON

Can we get to the point here?

FRANK

Fine by me.

Aaron is now extremely irritated. He exchanges a look with Ryan confirming that there's no other way out.

AARON

(to Frank)

If I write this check, then that's it.
You give us the photos and stay away from our mother. Deal?

FRANK

Deal.

Aaron sits down at the desk and reluctantly takes out his check book. He starts writing.

FRANK (CONT'D)

(to Aaron)

Is it your first one?

Aaron stops writing and looks up at him.

AARON

What?

FRANK

The novel... it's a first draft?

AARON

Yeah. So?

FRANK

No, nothing.

Aaron continues to write the check.

FRANK (CONT'D)

I tried writing once... Didn't work for me, either. I think it's just a gift. You either have it or you don't... It must be hard for you though, especially since your younger brother is such a great writer.

(to Ryan)

(MORE)

FRANK (CONT'D)

Your father and I read "Black Hurt" together. Truly amazing. We loved it. He was so proud of you.

RYAN

Thanks... I guess...

Aaron rips the check into little pieces.

AARON

That's it. I can't do it.

RYAN

Aaron, what are you doing?

AARON

There's no way in the world I'm giving him my hard earned money.

RYAN

Don't be stupid. Not today. I'll pay you back as soon as my money comes in.

AARON

He comes in today! Of all days, he picks the day of my father's funeral! Who the hell is he?

RYAN

He has the pictures!

AARON

So what. Who cares what he's got. Let him show the world. Put it on facebook. I don't care.

RYAN

Aaron-

AARON

Let's just get it over with.

There's a long pause as everyone seems to be deciding what to do. Finally, Frank stands up.

FRANK

Fine. This is on your head.

Frank heads towards the door.

RYAN

What? No, wait.

Ryan rushes to stand in front of the door, blocking Frank's exit.

FRANK
Get out of my way.

RYAN
Let's just discuss this a minute.

FRANK
There's nothing to discuss.

Frank grabs the door and tries to open it.

FRANK (CONT'D)
Get out of my way.

He tries to push past, but Ryan covers his mouth, muffling his cries.

FRANK (CONT'D)
(muffled)
Get out of my way. Move!

Ryan restrains Frank.

INT. HALLWAY - SAME TIME

A few mourners hear the commotion and the muffled voices. They turn to look.

INT. STUDY - SAME TIME

Ryan grabs Frank and wrestles him to the ground. Aaron watches, absolutely shocked as Ryan and Frank roll around on the floor. Aaron jumps up and stands between them and the door.

AARON
Ryan, what are you doing?

FRANK
Get off me!

Ryan is trying to muffle Frank's screams.

RYAN
Aaron, help me!

Ryan is holding Frank down and trying to keep him quiet.

FRANK Ah!!

CONTINUED:

RYAN

Aaron, you got any rope or duct tape?

AARON

What?! I'm not a serial killer. I don't keep rope and duct tape in my pocket.

RYAN

Well just grab something!
(indicating with his head)
There, from the curtains.

Aaron grabs the cord that's tied around the curtains. He holds it over the wrestling duo, but Ryan's hands are occupied with Frank.

RYAN (CONT'D)

Tie his legs.

Aaron grabs his legs and in doing so falls on top of Frank as well. As he wraps the curtain cord around Frank's legs...

AARON

This is a really bad idea.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - DAY

Elaine leans against the wall listening as Oscar hums in the bathroom. She slides down the wall and sits on the floor.

EXT. BATHROOM WINDOW - SAME TIME

From a rooftop POV we see the window slide open and Oscar, dripping with sweat and not wearing a shirt, lean out. He takes a deep breath of fresh air and listens to the birds.

He climbs out the window revealing he's completely naked. He stands on the roof and lifts his hands to the sky.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - SAME TIME

Michelle comes up and sits next to Elaine.

MICHELLE

Men.

ELAINE

Tell me about it... How's Aaron?

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

MICHELLE

How would I know? He's been avoiding me all day. We're trying to get pregnant. But I can't really do that by myself, can I? I feel like I'm making him eat brussel sprouts every time we do it.

Elaine looks at her.

ELAINE

The guy's father just died. Don't you think this is a bad day for sex?

MICHELLE

Don't you think I know that?

ELAINE

I'm sorry. At least your husband didn't ruin the funeral.

MICHELLE

It's a funeral, it's already ruined. When you start off with a dead guest of honor, how much worse can it get?

INT. STUDY - DAY

Ryan and Aaron struggle with Frank, who's muffled cries are starting to fade.

RYAN

Get that tie.

Aaron grabs the necktie from off the desk.

AARON

What am I supposed to do with the tie?

RYAN

Whatever you do with a tie.

AARON

I don't know what to--

RYAN

Just stuff it in his mouth! Damn, do I have to do everything?

AARON

Apparently everything but write a damn check.

Suddenly the door opens and Norman enters.

NORMAN

Aaron, do you know what was in this cake, I-

ANGLE ON: Frank who looks at Norman bug eyed hoping he'll help.

RYAN

Shut the goddamn door!

Shocked, Norman does as he's told. It takes Norman a moment to register that Aaron and Ryan are sitting on top of Frank.

Frank continues screaming through the cloth.

NORMAN

What is going on? Who is that guy?

Ryan thinks quickly.

RYAN

He's having a seizure.

NORMAN

I just found some Valium outside.
Would that help?

RYAN

Yeah. Great. Give him some.

Frank shakes his head "no." Norman gets on his knees with the guys and opens the bottle.

NORMAN

It's okay. This should help calm you down.

Frank tries to protest, but can't. Ryan holds Frank's mouth open as Aaron holds his nose closed. Norman pours a few pills into Frank's mouth, then Ryan holds Frank's mouth shut.

Suddenly the door opens again and Jeff walks in.

JEFF

Have you seen a little brown pill bottle lying around--

They all turn to Jeff. Frank looks at him, hoping this time he'll get saved.

(CONTINUED)

RYAN

Norman! I told you to lock the damn door.

NORMAN

You said "shut the damn door."

Jeff locks the door and looks shocked.

JEFF

What's going on?

NORMAN

He's having a seizure.

JEFF

Why is he all tied up?

No one knows what to say.

EXT. ROOF - SAME TIME

Oscar stands on the roof, naked, breathing in the fresh air.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Jeff, Aaron, Ryan and Norman are all kneeling over Frank.

JEFF

He's blackmailing you? Over what?

AARON

If I could tell everybody, it wouldn't be blackmail.

RYAN

Look, just trust us. He's the bad guy. We'll explain later.

NORMAN

What are you going to do with him?

Everyone realizes they have no answer to this question.

AARON

Yeah, Ryan, what are we going to do with him?

Ryan doesn't have any answers.

RYAN

I don't know.

AARON

You don't know?! Come on, you're the big writer. You're the one who came up with "Black Hurt." Dream up something where we all live happily ever after. We can't keep him tied up forever. How long do you think those Valium are going to last?

JEFF

Valium?

NORMAN

Yeah, I found that bottle of Valium. We gave him a few to calm him down.

Norman hands him the bottle.

JEFF

Ah shit!

Jeff stands up and heads over to the door.

AARON

What?

FRANK

(muffled)

What?

They all head over to Jeff.

Frank looks extremely curious to know what's going on. Everyone talks very quietly so that Frank can't hear.

RYAN

What is it?

JEFF

The thing is... those pills aren't really Valium. It's acid and... acid.

AARON

What?!

JEFF

Oscar took one by mistake. That's why he's acting crazy.

AARON

Jeff, what the hell are you doing with this stuff?

CONTINUED: (2)

JEFF

A friend left them at my place.

AARON

What friend, Amy Winehouse?

RYAN

Wait, you're telling us that Elaine's boyfriend, who knocked over our father's coffin, had just one of these things...

AARON

(to Norman)

And you gave him how many?

Norman looks a bit guilty.

NORMAN

Five.

JEFF

Five?!

(looking at Frank)

Poor bastard.

NORMAN

I thought they were Valium.

They all turn and look at Frank who is looking back at them, increasingly concerned by whatever conversation they are having, and the pitying expressions on their faces.

AARON

Maybe we should call an ambulance.

JEFF

You can't do that. I'll go to jail.

RYAN

He's right. If anyone finds out this guy's been force fed acid, we could all be arrested.

AARON

So what then? What's going to happen? Is he going to die?!

JEFF

No... I don't think so... I doubt it... Probably not...

CONTINUED: (3)

The moment is broken by someone trying the door, followed by a knock.

CYNTHIA (O.S.)

Ryan?

EXT. HALLWAY - SAME TIME

Cynthia is knocking on the door.

CYNTHIA

Aaron?

INT. STUDY - CONTINUOUS

They all back away from the door.

CYNTHIA (O.S.)

Are you in there?

They look at each other in panic.

RYAN

Damn.

AARON

(as normal as possible)

Be out in a minute, Mom.

Ryan looks at Norman and Jeff.

RYAN

(to Norman and Jeff)

Okay. We have to go out there. You two stay in here and watch him.

Ryan closes the curtains.

NORMAN

Watch him?! What do you mean, "watch him"?

RYAN

Just make sure he doesn't escape.
Lock the door behind us. We'll deal with him after the funeral.

Aaron and Ryan open the study door leaving Norman and Jeff to take care of Frank.

INT. CORRIDOR - DAY

Aaron and Ryan come outside trying to look as normal as possible. They see Cynthia standing with the reverend.

AARON

How's it going, Mom?

CYNTHIA

Reverend Davis wants to talk with you.

INT. STUDY - CONTINUOUS

Norman locks the door behind them.

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Reverend Davis tries to remain cool, but she's agitated.

REVEREND DAVIS

Lookie here, brother. I've been patient. We all know it's a virtue, but I'm about done with patience. Now if we don't resume service soon, we're going to need to have a little conversation about my compensation.

AARON

Sure. So sorry. Um... can you just give us another five minutes?

The reverend doesn't look too pleased.

REVEREND DAVIS

Five minutes.

CYNTHIA

Is everything okay, boys?

Ryan and Aaron kiss their mother and walk off.

INT. GARAGE - DAY

Aaron and Ryan enter and slam the door.

RYAN

Why didn't you just pay him the money?!

AARON

Why did you tie him up?!

(CONTINUED)

RYAN

Do you want Mom to find out?!

AARON

What is wrong with you?

They start to argue.

INT. KITCHEN - DAY

We hear their muffled argument through the door. Uncle Russell rolls up to Derek who is sitting at the kitchen table.

UNCLE RUSSELL

What's your problem?!

DEREK

Women are my problem.

UNCLE RUSSELL

No such thing as having a woman without a problem. If they didn't have problems, do you think they'd let us touch 'em? Let me tell you something about women. Smarter than you think they are. But not as smart as they think they are.

DEREK

She acts like she doesn't care that I exist. I mean how can she not feel what I feel?

UNCLE RUSSELL

(laughs)

Oh she feels it. She's playing hard to get. She wants you to work for it. Look, let me tell something about women. They want a man who can control them. I know they talk all this Oprah, Beyonce "single women" BS, but what they really want is an old school man.

DEREK

Really?

UNCLE RUSSELL

Listen here, boy. This is what you do: you walk up to her, slap her--

CONTINUED:

DEREK

Slap her? You want me to hit her?

UNCLE RUSSELL

Has not hitting her worked? Look, then you grab her and kiss her. The harder the better.

DEREK

Are you sure, 'cause that--

UNCLE RUSSELL

Oh, man, I gotta shit. Where's the can?

He rolls away quickly.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Norman and Jeff are sitting in the study. Frank is on the floor tied up, breathing heavily and making gurgling sounds.

JEFF

I can't believe you gave him five. Even if they were Valium, that's too many. I wouldn't give a guy five cough drops.

Suddenly they hear the doorknob rattle. Norman and Jeff both look terrified.

FRANK

(muffled)

Hello?

Jeff covers his mouth.

UNCLE RUSSELL (O.S.)

Hello?!

Neither Norman nor Jeff want to speak. They argue in gestures. Finally Jeff relents.

JEFF

Hello?

UNCLE RUSSELL (O.S.)

I need the toilet.

Jeff and Norman both look panicked. Norman goes to the door.

CONTINUED:

NORMAN

Can't you use the one upstairs?

UNCLE RUSSELL (O.S.)

I'm in a wheelchair, you idiot! How am I supposed to get up the stairs?!

FRANK

(muffled)

Hello?

Norman and Jeff look at each other not knowing what to do.

UNCLE RUSSELL (O.S.)

Open the damn door!

Uncle Russell starts banging on the door with his cane.

NORMAN

What are we going to do?

They look at Frank who's starting to look high as a kite.

JEFF

We'll stick him behind the couch.

NORMAN

(calls out)

Just looking for the key.

They pick Frank up and dump him behind the couch.

Jeff stays with Frank to keep him quiet as Norman opens the door. Uncle Russell wheels himself inside.

UNCLE RUSSELL

What the hell is wrong with you people? I'm about to take a dump in my pants!

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - DAY

Elaine is still standing outside the bathroom.

Derek comes up to talk to her. Elaine's completely drained and stressed.

ELAINE

What do you want, Derek?

DEREK

I just want to talk.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

ELAINE

Please don't make me go through this again.

DEREK

The only reason you don't want to go out with me is because your dad likes me.

ELAINE

No. The reason I don't want to go out with you is because it was a mistake. I was drunk off my ass. You could have been a donkey.

DEREK

Thanks.

ELAINE

That wasn't a compliment. I'm saying I couldn't remember it.

DEREK

Well I remember every minute of it.

ELAINE

A minute, huh? That's why I don't remember.

DEREK

What is it about this guy? What has he got that I haven't got?

ELAINE

Okay, well for one thing, he's responsible. He's caring. He's considerate. He's thoughtful. He's stable. He's--

EXT. ROOF - DAY

Oscar is leaning over the ledge playing with his spit and laughing uncontrollably.

INT. GARAGE - DAY

Aaron and Ryan are still arguing.

AARON

I'm not the one who tied him up.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

RYAN

Well somebody had to look out for Mom.

AARON

(incensed)

I've been looking out for Mom since you got your book deal.

RYAN

You just can't get over it, can you? You're burning with jealousy because I left and did what you always wanted to do.

AARON

I couldn't leave because I had responsibilities.

RYAN

Don't put it off on responsibilities. You spent three years on a novel and you won't even let anyone see it! What are you going to do? Wait until you're dead? You think you're going to be the Tupac of books?

AARON

At least I'm not some hack writing crap. Mr. "Mama's Secret", Mr. "Black Hurt."

RYAN

Mr. "Out of Ink", Mr. "Blank Page." At least my crap gets published.

Michelle enters.

MICHELLE

Aaron, what is going on?

AARON

Michelle, please, not now.

MICHELLE

Why are you acting like this? Fine. We don't have to have sex today, but the condo? Don't you want to get out of here?

AARON

Michelle--

(CONTINUED)

RYAN

Just tell her, Aaron.

MICHELLE

Tell me what?

Aaron closes the garage door.

AARON

Listen... Do you remember the guy in the leather jacket?

MICHELLE

Yeah.

AARON

Well, I don't know how to say this, but... it looks like he and my father were having sex.

MICHELLE

What? No. Not your father. With him?

AARON

Yes.

MICHELLE

No. Your father was the straightest guy I know.

RYAN

That's what I thought.

MICHELLE

Are you sure?

AARON

And now he wants thirty thousand dollars or he's going to show everyone photos of them doing... stuff...

MICHELLE

Stuff like what?

Aaron and Ryan share a look. Aaron shows Michelle the picture.
She reacts.

INT. STUDY BATHROOM - DAY

Norman lifts Uncle Russell out of the chair.

(CONTINUED)

UNCLE RUSSELL

Hurry up!

Norman is struggling to hold Uncle Russell up.

UNCLE RUSSELL (CONT'D)

Have you got me?

NORMAN

Yes, I've got you.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Come on, quick, quick, quick.

NORMAN

Alright, I'm trying to see where the toilet is.

He maneuvers Uncle Russell to the toilet.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Pants down. Pants down.

NORMAN

No you do it.

UNCLE RUSSELL

How can I do it? I'm handicapped.

Norman reluctantly helps Uncle Russell pull his pants down.

NORMAN

Alright. Alright.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Drawers. Drawers. Take down my drawers.

NORMAN

Who calls them "drawers"?

Norman pulls them down.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

It's all down.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Am I there? Am I there?

Norman looks and sees Uncle Russell is right over the toilet.

CONTINUED: (2)

NORMAN

Yes, yes. Just sit down.

Uncle Russell sits down on the toilet trapping Norman's hand underneath and lets loose.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Ooh, that's better.

Norman pulls his hand out and looks at it in shock.

ANGLE ON: Norman's hand has shit on the fingers. He starts freaking out and screaming.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Jeff hears Norman and jumps up.

NORMAN (O.S.)

Ahh!!!

Jeff goes into the bathroom to see what's going on.

INT. STUDY BATHROOM - DAY

Jeff opens the door and rushes in, but is stopped in his tracks by Norman's shitty hand.

NORMAN

Ahh!!!

JEFF

Ugh!

Norman, panicking, rushes to the sink, turns on the faucet full blast and sticks his hand under the water. This causes a great splashing.

INT. STUDY - SAME TIME

Frank peeks up from behind the couch. He's clearly high. With his hands still tied, he struggles to get to his feet.

INT. STUDY BATHROOM - DAY

Norman frantically washes his hands.

JEFF

Norman? Norman?

Norman still has his face down.

(CONTINUED)

NORMAN

Please, please. Just come off.

JEFF

Norman!

Norman turns and we see he has shit splattered on his face.

NORMAN

What?

Jeff points to his face.

JEFF

You missed some.

Norman turns slowly and looks in the mirror. He freaks out.

NORMAN

Oh, I think I've got some of it in my mouth!

Norman desperately rushes to wash it off.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Frank is now up on his feet and running around like a rabid animal.

INT. STUDY BATHROOM - SAME TIME

Jeff pulls Norman up and shakes him.

JEFF

Pull yourself together. Would you rather get caught or have shit in your mouth?!

Uncle Russell has fallen asleep on the toilet.

INT. STUDY - SAME TIME

Frank is running around the room. Through the door, we see Uncle Russell sleeping on the toilet.

Frank jumps up and down on the sofa. He loses his balance and falls on the coffee table head first. He cracks his head on the corner and falls straight down.

Jeff and Norman rush out of the bathroom to find Frank lying on the floor motionless, blood on his head.

CONTINUED:

NORMAN

Oh, no. Check him. Check him.

JEFF

Hey, man, you alright?

No response.

NORMAN

Check him again. Check him.

JEFF

Man. Hey. Hey!

NORMAN

Wake him up. Wake up. Wake up. Wake up.

JEFF

What's his name?

NORMAN

I don't know. Try Larry.

Jeff looks at Norman, but he doesn't have a better idea.

JEFF

Larry?

NORMAN

Shake him.

Jeff bends down and shakes him.

JEFF

Larry, wake up. It's time to get up.

From the bathroom, Uncle Russell starts to stir. Norman quickly closes the door.

NORMAN

Maybe it's not Larry. Try something else. Pinch him.

Jeff pinches Frank. Still no response.

NORMAN (CONT'D)

He must be breathing. He has to be breathing. Please God let him be breathing.

CONTINUED: (2)

Jeff looks concerned. He checks for a pulse. He looks up at Norman with an expression that tells us all we need to know.

JEFF

He's dead.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Michelle walks into frame and stops at the coffin. Aaron and Ryan stand on either side of her.

MICHELLE

So that's it? We're just giving him all the money we've saved?

AARON

Well, it's not that simple.

MICHELLE

Why not?

RYAN

Aaron refused to pay.

MICHELLE

How come you couldn't pay, Ryan?

RYAN

That's not the point. Besides, the only reason Aaron tore up the check is because the guy started talking bad about his novel.

MICHELLE

Your novel?

Michelle looks confused.

MICHELLE (CONT'D)

You let him read your novel? You wouldn't let me read your novel. Are you screwing him, too? 'Cause Lord knows you're not screwing me.

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Norman comes out of the study and closes the door behind him. He leans against the door, dripping with sweat.

INT. LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Aaron and Ryan look over and see Norman.

CONTINUED:

ANGLE ON: Norman as he pastes a maniacal grin on his face and crosses into the living room. As he moves through the throng of mourners, they are all unnerved by him.

NORMAN

Hi. Excuse me. Hi. Pardon me. Hi.

The huge smile never leaves his face.

ANGLE ON: Ryan, Aaron and Michelle watching Norman, concerned. Norman approaches and stands on the other side of the coffin.

AARON

Norman, why are you grinning like that?

NORMAN

(to Aaron and Ryan)

Can you come to the study for a second?

Aaron can see from Norman's face, and the sweat on his forehead, that something serious has happened. Then he sees Cynthia sitting in the corner.

AARON

(to Michelle)

I'll be back soon. Can you check on Mom?

MICHELLE

Sure.

They exit. Michelle crosses to Cynthia.

MICHELLE (CONT'D)

Hey, are you doing okay? It's going to be alright.

CYNTHIA

If you've never given life, child, how can you understand death?

INT. STUDY - DAY

Jeff is leaning on the window. There's a knock at the door.

AARON (O.S.)

It's Aaron.

Jeff opens the door. Norman, Ryan and Aaron enter. Norman locks the door behind them. Aaron rushes over to the body.

AARON (CONT'D)
Oh shit! Call an ambulance.

JEFF
There's no point.

AARON
What do you mean "there's no point"?!

JEFF
Look at him! He's dead!

AARON
Dead, dead?

RYAN
Is there a "kind of" dead, Aaron?

AARON
What the hell did you do to him?

NORMAN
We didn't do anything!

AARON
Well he was alive when I left.

JEFF
He hit his head on the table.

AARON
Oh no. This is really bad. This is really, really bad.

JEFF
What are we going to do?

AARON
Twenty-five to life.

Norman looks at his watch.

NORMAN
You know what, I really have to be someplace else--

Norman makes his way to the door.

JEFF
You're not going anywhere.

CONTINUED: (2)

NORMAN

Look, I'm not the prison type.
They'll kill me. Oh my God, I'm going to die. I'm going to die in prison.
Oh my God, do you know how fast a rash spreads in prison?

Aaron smacks Norman.

AARON

Pull yourself together!

Norman calms down.

NORMAN

Thanks, man.

After a beat, Ryan speaks.

RYAN

Look, no one here knows who this guy is. Nobody knows his name. They probably didn't even notice him.

AARON

Didn't notice him? He's four fucking feet tall.

RYAN

Look, all we have to do is get rid of the body. It'll be like he came and left.

AARON

Get rid of the body?! It took me two months to get rid of a couch.

JEFF

Did any of you happen to notice the size of Uncle Edward's coffin?

Everyone looks at Jeff.

AARON

(to Jeff)

You want to bury him with my father?

JEFF

Why not?... I mean it's not like he's going to know.

AARON

That's not the point.

RYAN

You have to admit, it makes sense, Aaron. The coffin's there, the hole in the ground's there... He'll be gone, finished, end of story... Unless you have a better suggestion.

Aaron desperately tries to think of an alternative.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - DAY

Derek and Elaine are sitting in the corridor. Elaine looks drained of energy. Derek's smoking a cigarette.

DEREK

It's funny. No matter what you say, I'm convinced we'll be together.

ELAINE

Yeah, well, we all make mistakes... I used to be convinced I was going to marry Prince. What happened there?

DEREK

You still could.

ELAINE

You're an idiot.

DEREK

I'm serious. You only live once. You might as well do whatever it is that makes you happy.

ELAINE

Yes, but maybe I don't think of life anymore as all about me, me, me. Maybe I've discovered there's something outside of myself that I care about. And maybe you should, too.

Derek looks hurt.

DEREK

That's kind of cold. I care about you.

CONTINUED:

ELAINE

No, Derek, you care about you. You only care about me in relation to how I affect you. There's a difference.

DEREK

That's not true, Elaine.

EXT. ROOF - SAME TIME

Oscar is squatting down rolling his head around when he hears Elaine's voice.

ELAINE (O.S.)

Derek, get over yourself.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - CONTINUOUS

Elaine moves over to the window. Derek follows her.

DEREK

Hey!

He slaps her on the butt. Elaine whirls around. Derek grabs her on the arms.

DEREK (CONT'D)

I'm the man for you, and you're coming home with me.

He kisses her.

EXT. ROOF - CONTINUOUS

Oscar turns to look at the window and sees Derek and Elaine kissing.

INT. UPSTAIRS CORRIDOR - LATER

Elaine pulls away and punches Derek in the face. He staggers back and sees Oscar in the window.

DEREK

What is that?!

Elaine turns around.

ELAINE

Oscar!

EXT. ROOF - CONTINUOUS

Oscar moves away from the window and further out on the ledge. Elaine opens the window and sticks her head out.

ELAINE

Oscar! What are you doing? Get back here and put your clothes on right now!

OSCAR

I saw you kissing him.

ELAINE

I wasn't kissing him. I swear. Please, baby, put your clothes on. We're at a funeral!

Derek sticks his head out the window behind Elaine.

OSCAR

You cheater! You cheater! You're committing adultery!!!

ELAINE

Calm down.

OSCAR

I'm going to jump right now.

ELAINE

Remember you've got drugs in you. This isn't really happening. Oscar, look at me.

She turns to Derek.

ELAINE (CONT'D)

(to Derek)

Get out of here!

She pushes him back inside.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SAME TIME

As mourners mill about the lawn we hear:

OSCAR (O.S.)

I'm going to jump. I'm jumping. You're a cheater!

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

People gather around and look up. We only see Oscar from the waist up.

ANGLE ON: Oscar.

OSCAR (CONT'D)
I'm going to jump. She's cheating on me!

ELAINE (O.S.)
Oscar, please. Come back here.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Ryan, Aaron, Jeff and Norman are as we left them.

NORMAN
There's just no way we can do it.
It's impossible.

Suddenly there's a knock on the door. Everyone freezes.

DEREK (O.S.)
Norman, it's Derek. Let me in.

Everyone freezes.

RYAN
Oh shit. Put him in the bathroom.

Aaron and Jeff drag Frank to the bathroom door.

DEREK (O.S.)
Are you in there?

Aaron opens the door and we see Uncle Russell still on the toilet. He looks up.

UNCLE RUSSELL
What's that?

Aaron slams the door. We can hear Russell's muffled shouting coming from behind the bathroom door.

AARON
Norman!! Why is Uncle Russell on the toilet?

NORMAN
I forgot!

CONTINUED:

AARON

How could you forget?! What the hell is wrong with you?!

Another loud bang on the door.

DEREK (O.S.)

Aaron, open the door.

Norman opens the door as Aaron runs over to keep Derek from entering.

INT. STUDY/CORRIDOR - DAY

Aaron opens the door an inch.

AARON

What is it?

DEREK

Aaron, where's Norman?

NORMAN

(from behind the door)
I'm here.

DEREK

It's Oscar, he went crazy. He's--

Derek realizes that something weird's going on.

DEREK (CONT'D)

What's going on?

AARON

Nothing.

Derek puts aside his curiosity for the time being.

DEREK

Look, Oscar's on the roof stark naked.
He saw me kissing Elaine and now he's threatening to jump!

JEFF

I've got to go.

Jeff rushes to the door.

RYAN

Where are you going?

CONTINUED:

JEFF

I have to go out there. If he jumps, my sister is going to kill me.

Jeff rushes out.

AARON

(to Ryan and Norman)
Wait here.

Aaron follows Jeff, but he does not run. He walks out.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Jeff rushes through the empty room. Aaron walks behind him slowly.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - DAY

Jeff runs through the kitchen door and joins the mourners looking at Oscar on the roof.

ELAINE

Get back here. Be careful!

OSCAR

I believe I can fly! I believe I can touch the sky!

ANGLE ON: Aaron who steps out and sees everybody watching Oscar.

EXT. ROOF - SAME TIME

Elaine is still leaning out the window.

ELAINE

Oscar, come inside. We'll have some coffee.

OSCAR

(petulantly)

No!

He climbs up on the roof.

ELAINE

Oscar!

She climbs out the window.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SAME TIME

The mourners see that Oscar is naked. He stumbles. Everybody GASPS!

Aaron notices that everybody is captivated by the drama.

EXT. ROOF - SAME TIME

Elaine follows Oscar on the roof.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - SAME TIME

Duncan sees Elaine on the roof.

DUNCAN

Elaine, what are you doing?!

Elaine sees Oscar climbing further up the roof.

DUNCAN (CONT'D)

Elaine!

Elaine follows Oscar.

Aaron realizes this is his chance. He heads back inside. Michelle catches him at the door.

MICHELLE

What are you doing?

AARON

I think I can get rid of this guy, but I need you to stay out here and try to stop anyone from coming in.

MICHELLE

Okay. I'll do what I can.

She heads back to the crowd on the lawn. As Aaron goes through the doorway of the kitchen, Derek passes him on the way out to the lawn to see what's happening.

DUNCAN (O.S.)

Elaine!

INT. STUDY - DAY

Norman is standing in the corner. Aaron knocks on the door.

NORMAN

Who is it?

CONTINUED:

AARON (O.S.)

It's Aaron!

Norman opens the door.

AARON (CONT'D)

Everyone's out in the garden... We've gotta move the body now.

RYAN

Let's go!

Ryan and Aaron grab Frank. As Norman runs out.

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Norman looks around and sees that it's clear. He goes back to the study and opens the door.

NORMAN

Quick. Quick!

Aaron and Ryan carry Frank out as Norman looks around.

RYAN

Make sure no one comes in.

As they disappear around the corner, Norman closes the study door. He turns just in time to find Reverend Davis approaching. He intercepts.

NORMAN

(to Reverend Davis)

Hi!

The reverend looks around, not knowing why Norman is being so especially friendly to her.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Ryan and Aaron hurry across the living room carrying Frank.

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Norman is blocking Reverend Davis.

NORMAN

So, what made you decide to get your God on?

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

REVEREND DAVIS

Look, I'm sorry, I really need to use the phone--

NORMAN

I'd like to make a confession.

REVEREND DAVIS

I'm not a priest.

NORMAN

That's okay, 'cause I'm not Catholic.

INT. LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

Aaron and Ryan get to the coffin and Ryan opens it up.

There's an intense moment as they look down at their father in the coffin. They both stop for a moment, speechless.

RYAN

Aaron, we have to do this.

Aaron looks up at Ryan and nods his assent. Ryan and Aaron lift up Frank and try their best to put him in the coffin.

INT. HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Norman still blocks the reverend.

NORMAN

What do you think God's favorite color is?

REVEREND DAVIS

(annoyed)

I have no idea.

NORMAN

I'll bet it's blue. The sky's blue.
The seas are blue. And the winds blew, too.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Ryan and Aaron are staring at the body. Frank is on his stomach, tops to tails with their father. Aaron looks at it and decides that it's just wrong.

AARON

We can't leave it like that.

(CONTINUED)

CONTINUED:

Ryan looks down and laughs.

RYAN

In a strange way, this might have been what he wanted.

AARON

Be serious for a second.

They begin lifting him again.

INT. CORRIDOR - DAY

Norman is doing his best to keep Reverend Davis at bay.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron and Ryan have swiveled the body around so that Frank is facing upwards.

RYAN

Why do you say I don't take anything seriously? You complain about me all the time, but if I didn't play the bad boy, you couldn't play the martyr.

(mocking)

Aaron's so great, Aaron's so right, Aaron's so responsible.

(back to normal)

Why don't you try laughing and enjoying life once in a while? It might make you a better a writer.

INT. ENTRY CORRIDOR - DAY

Norman is still talking to Reverend Davis. She looks like she really doesn't want to be there.

REVEREND DAVIS

Look, I must get to a phone. There's a man on the roof who's going to jump.

NORMAN

I'm addicted to strip clubs. The shoes, the poles, the smell. I just like to take my money and throw it in the air. I like to make it rain.

EXT. ROOF - DAY

Elaine is stepping off the fire escape ladder and onto the roof peak. Oscar sits sadly on the roof peak with his back to the crowd.

ELAINE

Oscar... Please don't do this... I love you.

OSCAR

Then why were you with him?

ELAINE

I wasn't with him.

OSCAR

Yes, you were! I saw you!

EXT. BACK GARDEN - CONTINUOUS

Derek is laughing next to Jeff. We see the view from their POV.

EXT. ROOF - CONTINUOUS

Elaine finally gets closer to Oscar.

OSCAR

I'll never be good enough. Not for your dad, and not for you.

ELAINE

Oscar, please just come inside.

OSCAR

No. You go inside.

ELAINE

Come with me.

OSCAR

Why?

ELAINE

Because you're going to be a father.

Oscar looks at her, shocked.

OSCAR

What?

ELAINE

I'm pregnant. We're going to have a child...

ANGLE ON: Oscar and Elaine.

OSCAR

You're pregnant?

Oscar is overcome with emotion. Elaine holds out her hand.

ELAINE

I won't be able to do it without you.

Very slowly, a naked Oscar, walks toward her and they embrace. The crowd applauds.

ANGLE ON: Michelle.

MICHELLE

What about me?! I want a baby. Would somebody get me pregnant?!

Everybody looks at Michelle. She smiles weakly.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - DAY

Seeing Oscar is safe, Jeff is very relieved.

INT. CORRIDOR - DAY

Norman and the reverend hear applause. Reverend Davis heads back out to see what's up. Norman turns to check on Ryan and Aaron.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron and Ryan are just about to close the lid. They both look down at their father one last time. Aaron takes a moment to touch his father's hand.

AARON

Bye, Dad.

Ryan takes a long look as he closes the coffin.

EXT. ROOF - DAY

Oscar turns toward the crowd.

(CONTINUED)

OSCAR
(announcing wildly)
We're having a baby.

EXT. BACK GARDEN - DAY

General approval noises and applause come from the crowd.
Duncan looks appalled.

DUNCAN Great.

Duncan heads toward the kitchen door. He passes a shocked looking Derek.

Michelle follows and speaks loudly as Duncan is about to enter the kitchen.

MICHELLE
Aaron?! Oscar's off the roof!

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Aaron and Ryan quickly shut the coffin a moment before Duncan enters the living room through the kitchen door and crosses on the way to the stairs.

DUNCAN
I'm going to kill him.

Jeff follows Duncan in, looks at the coffin, then looks at Aaron and Ryan questioning them with his eyes. They return the look with silent assurance that the job is done. Michelle comes in.

MICHELLE
(to Aaron)
Hey, is he gone?

AARON
Yeah.

MICHELLE Thank God.

Everybody breathes a sigh of relief.

INT. BATHROOM - CONTINUOUS

Elaine helps Oscar through the window.

OSCAR
Thank you.

CONTINUED:

DUNCAN (O.S.)

Elaine!

Elaine opens the bathroom door and Duncan enters. Elaine helps Oscar get dressed.

DUNCAN (CONT'D)

(to Elaine)

Thank God you're safe.

(to Oscar)

You idiot! What the hell is wrong with you? Stay away from my daughter.

ELAINE

Look, Dad--

DUNCAN

Elaine, stay out of this.

ELAINE

No, I'm not staying out of this. Remember how I told you we were moving in together? Well, I lied. We're getting married.

Duncan is shocked.

DUNCAN

You're what?!

ELAINE

We're getting married.

DUNCAN

Elaine, you don't have to marry him just because you're pregnant.

ELAINE

I'm not marrying him because I'm pregnant. I'm marrying him because I love him.

DUNCAN

How can you love him? He's an idiot.

ELAINE

Dad, this is my life. If you don't like it, too bad. But if you want to keep me and my child in your life, you'd better change your attitude, especially about my husband.

Elaine exits, taking Oscar with her.

OSCAR

Bye, Dad.

They exit.

EXT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Cynthia walks up to Aaron.

CYNTHIA

Baby, I really think we should start again now. Have you seen Uncle Russell?

Aaron remembers where he is and looks at Ryan. They rush off to the study, passing Jeff. Jeff checks his pockets and realizes the pills are gone again. He goes off to find them.

INT. STUDY - DAY

Aaron and Ryan enter the study and head toward the closed bathroom door. They open it and find Uncle Russell sitting on the toilet.

UNCLE RUSSELL

What the hell is going on in this place?

AARON

I'm so sorry, Uncle Russell. There was someone on the roof--

UNCLE RUSSELL

Never mind that. What about that dead body you dragged in here?

Aaron and Ryan feign ignorance.

AARON

What dead body?

UNCLE RUSSELL

Don't mess with me. I know a dead body when I see one. I live in a retirement home.

INT. LIVING ROOM - DAY

Norman sniffs his fingers, worried. In the background we see Elaine entering the room with Oscar, now dressed, but still looking a bit wired. People respond with scattered applause and congratulations.

Derek walks over and joins Norman.

DEREK

Did you hear that? She's having a kid!

Derek looks at Norman who's looking sort of distant.

DEREK (CONT'D)

How's your skin thing?

NORMAN

Oh that... It's probably nothing. I'm more worried about Hepatitis C after having Uncle Russell's shit in my mouth. I think I'm feeling yellow.

Norman touches his skin as he walks away, leaving Derek confused.

ANGLE ON: Jeff frantically looking for the pill bottle. He gives up and sits in a chair.

ANGLE ON: Ryan is wheeling Uncle Russell into the room as Aaron moves to his seat.

UNCLE RUSSELL

I'm telling you I saw the guy. He was dead!

RYAN

I know you did, Russell. We all did.

UNCLE RUSSELL

No! In the bathroom.

Ryan offers a look to the other mourners indicating that Uncle Russell's a bit mad and shouldn't be listened to.

ANGLE ON: Michelle comes over to Aaron.

AARON

I can't believe what a nightmare today has been.

MICHELLE

I don't know. It's been sort of exciting.

Aaron looks at her.

MICHELLE (CONT'D)

For a funeral, I mean...

AARON

Listen, about the condo and the baby, I promise--

MICHELLE

We'll work it out. Let's just get this day over with. Then we can worry about the rest of our lives.

Aaron hugs Michelle.

AARON

I can't believe I still have to do this eulogy... with everything I've just found out.

A beat.

MICHELLE

It doesn't change anything, does it?

AARON

Not a thing.

Reverend Davis approaches Aaron, looking at her watch and appearing flustered.

REVEREND DAVIS

We're going to have to fly through this now. I already missed a funeral and two Christenings.

AARON

Sure. Let's go.

REVEREND DAVIS

Do you want an open casket?

AARON/RYAN/NORMAN/JEFF

No!

The reverend looks shocked at the reaction, but ignores it. She stands up at the front and speaks quickly.

REVEREND DAVIS
Alright! Everybody in their seats
now!
(she snaps her fingers)
Hey, you, sit down.

People settle into their seats. Ryan manages to squeeze in next to Martina. He smiles at her, flirtatiously. Cynthia throws Ryan a look, and he gets up and goes to sit with her.

(speaking very quickly)
I'd like to apologize on behalf of the family for all of the distractions. I hope that everyone is settled and ready to continue with the service. Aaron, the oldest son, would like to say a few words about his father.

Michelle gives Aaron an encouraging look as he makes his way to the front.

Aaron clears his throat and prepares to begin. The room is absolutely silent. He takes a deep breath.

ANGLE ON: The reverend nodding for Aaron to hurry up.

ANGLE ON: Aaron.

AARON
My father... was an exceptional--

BANG! BANG! BANG!

Suddenly, a loud banging emanates from the coffin. Everyone stares at it in stunned silence. Jeff looks over to Norman whose eyes are as wide as saucers. Aaron looks like a deer caught in headlights. He looks at Ryan who gestures to him to continue. He nervously struggles on.

AARON (CONT'D)
My father was an exceptional man.

BANG! BANG! BANG!

Everyone stares at the coffin in awe. Aaron bravely continues.

AARON (CONT'D)
Not only did he live for his family, but he was always there for others--

BANG! BANG! BANG!

DUNCAN

What the hell is going on?

MOURNER 1

There's someone in there!

OSCAR

I knew it! I knew it!

Suddenly the coffin lid flips off and everyone stares in wonder as Frank sits up, looking like a crazy person, and babbling incoherently.

Several people scream. Frank opens the other end of the coffin and looks at his dead lover.

RYAN

(trying to cover)

What the hell are you doing in my Dad's coffin?

Frank starts grabbing at Edward's body screaming.

FRANK

Edward! Edward! Edward!

Ryan, Norman and Jeff try to pull Frank out of the coffin, but he's holding onto the corpse.

FRANK (CONT'D)

No! No!

Finally they get Frank out and carry him from the room. As he passes Cynthia, the photos fall out of his pocket at her feet.

As Duncan closes the coffin again, Cynthia bends down and picks up one of the photographs and stares at it. Her face turns to horror as she makes out the image. The noise in the room is broken by Cynthia's furious cry. She drops the photos and runs at Frank.

CYNTHIA

You bastard!

Cynthia tackles Frank and starts beating him.

CYNTHIA (CONT'D)

(as she hits him)

He was with you!

Duncan picks up the photos. He shows them to Uncle Russell.

UNCLE RUSSELL

I always thought he had a little sugar in his tank.

Everything has descended into total chaos until Aaron finally shouts across the room.

AARON

MY FATHER WAS AN EXCEPTIONAL MAN!!!

Everyone, including Frank and Cynthia, looks at Aaron, stunned.
They all freeze. There's a long silence.

AARON (CONT'D)

He had his... shortcomings, but he took care of his family. He loved his family. He loved this house. He worked hard. All I wanted today was to show him how much we all loved and admired him. To give him the respect that he deserved... Is that really so much to ask? We all get so distracted by the... little things in life. We forget about the important things.
Like the fact that we lost a great man.

The mourners look up at Aaron with undivided attention.

AARON (CONT'D)

So maybe he loved "Dreamgirls" more than most men. We don't know why a man makes the choices he makes. But I do know that my father made the best choices he could make. Life is complicated. We're just thrown here together in a world filled with chaos and confusion... and we do our best.
And Dad did his best...

Aaron looks over at the coffin. As he speaks, we see shots of Cynthia, Frank, Jeff, Norman, Duncan as they are moved by Aaron's words.

AARON (CONT'D)

He taught us to go for what we wanted in life, because you never know how long you're going to be here... And whether you succeed... or you fail... the important thing is that you tried.

A beat. Michelle looks up at her husband with pride. We see the various other mourners looking at Aaron and listening.

AARON (CONT'D)

So when you all leave here today, I want you to remember Dad for who he really was... A decent, loving man who never condemned anyone for how they lived. Who never cast disparaging remarks or held prejudices against race, gender... height. If only we could all be as giving, as generous, as understanding as my father... Even dead, my father has more character than everyone in this room. If I am half the man my father was, my child will be incredibly blessed.

Aaron turns and walks out of the room. Everyone watches him go. Michelle follows him out of the room.

FADE OUT:

FADE IN:

EXT. HOUSE - ESTABLISHING SHOT

The house has emptied out. All the cars are gone.

INT. LIVING ROOM - LATER - EVENING

Aaron is laying on the couch, looking drained. Ryan comes down the stairs. It looks like he's had some time to recover. He walks over and takes a seat.

AARON

How's Mom?

RYAN

She's resting.

A beat.

RYAN (CONT'D)

I've asked Mom to come live with me for awhile. It'll give you and Michelle a chance to breathe a bit, you know. Move and everything.

Aaron looks at Ryan, surprised.
